School Funds Pass In Lagunitas Vote, Fail In W. Marin

$100,000 State Loan Authorization Barely Misses In Latter District

An $80,000 bond issue and $210,000 state aid request won the approval of Lagunitas School District voters yesterday, but a state aid election in West Marin School District lost by an extremely narrow margin.

West Marin Supt. George Stratton reported 213 persons voted "yes" and 110 "no" on a request for authorization to borrow $110,000 to construct additional classrooms. If four absentee ballots, not yet opened, are "yes" votes, the request will still lose by three votes, Stratton said. A two-thirds majority is required for passage.

BALLOTS INVALID

The superintendent said the measure might have carried, but two "yes" votes were invalidated by persons making incorrect marks on the ballot, and one person's registration was lost en route between the deputy registrar, Dr. Kenneth Hansen, and the county clerk's office. That person would have voted "yes," and with the three additional votes, the measure would have passed, Stratton said.

The West Marin district already has exhausted its bonding capacity, and the loan was needed to provide more classrooms to keep up with increasing enrollment.

Stratton said the board probably would call another election for Jan. 17.

In Lagunitas, approval of the $290,000 in bonds and state loan will pay for five new classrooms, multi-purpose room and related facilities at Lagunitas School.

THE COUNT

The Lagunitas vote: On the bond issue: 261, yes; 97, no; on the state loan: 251, yes; 103, no; total vote cast was 363, out of about 900 registered voters.

Five absentee ballots will be counted when the board of trustees holds a special meeting next Tuesday at 8 p.m. to canvass the votes. President Leslie Stone said the trustees "appreciated the help of all the people of the valley."

Architects Rosse and Callister of San Francisco already are working on plans for the addition, and the board hopes to have it completed by the beginning of the 1961-62 school year.

Strawberry's Recreation Bonds Beaten

The vote was 252 for the bonds and 206 against.

With a two-thirds vote needed to pass the issue, this meant a total of 307 "yes" votes would have been necessary, noted Mrs. James W. Gowen, secretary. Eight absentee ballots not yet counted, could not change the result. Two ballots were void.

The district board will meet at 8 p.m. today at Strawberry School, Mrs. Gowen said.

She said the vote turnout was excellent. There was a total of 850 registered voters in the district. If approved, the funds would have provided for a recreation building, a multi-purpose athletic field, two tennis courts and a parking lot.

Large Novato Parcel Sold To Investors

One of the few remaining large parcels of land in Novato, the 600-acre Mahoney property, was sold today to a group of investors headed by San Francisco developer Andrew B. Talbot.

The property, east of Novato, adjoins the 500-acre Bugeia ranch acquired by Talbot last fall. The Mahoney property sold for about one million dollars, representatives of North Marin and Bellucci realty companies said in Novato.

The investment group includes Maurice Baldwin of Novato, an executive with Standard Oil Co. in San Francisco, and two or three others.

ECLIPSE OVER THE GOLDEN GATE

A partial eclipse of the sun was visible even through the fog around the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday afternoon. Seaman Apprentice F. C. Davis of Butte, Mont., with Navy harbor defense unit, watched it from a spot near the Lime Point Lighthouse. The 90-minute eclipse was the first visible since 1947 in most of the west. The moon, passing between sun and earth, blotted out part of the sun, leaving visible a squat, crescent-shaped portion. (Independent-Journal photo by Dick Steinheimer)

Marin Judgeship Hopefuls Probed

An "FBI-type" investigation of candidates for the Marin Municipal Court judgeship was under way today, it was learned.

The Independent-Journal learned reliably that an investigator for the state attorney general's office was in San Rafael inquiring into the background and record of attorney Jerome Duffy, one of those mentioned prominently to fill the municipal court seat vacated by appointment of Judge Richard M. Sims to superior court. It was assumed that other candidates were being investigated similarly.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, at his Sacramento press conference yesterday, said he had submitted to the California State Bar Assn. "two or three names for approval" and the Marin Municipal Court bench "will be filled soon."

But the appointment will be made, Brown stressed, only after "extended investigations" into the candidates' backgrounds.

"You know before a man is appointed to the federal court, the FBI makes a background study of the individual. They go to his neighborhood and his office associates and the judges and ask a great many questions about him," said the governor.

"I am trying to do that here in California. I am trying to experiment with that. I have done it in one case already. But it's a question of manpower and the only agency that I can use is the CII (Criminal Identification and Investigation Bureau) and they have only 19 or 20 people. Mr. (Atty. Gen. Stanley) Mosk tells me they're pretty busy and these are pretty extended investigations. So I am looking for some other

60-YEAR ANNIVERSARY

Mill Valley's Birthday Fete Set For Weekend

Art, music, festival queen candidates and a carnival spirit will highlight the three-day event opening Friday. A motorized cable car will transport visitors on a sightseeing tour of the city and of Lytton Square with its bright floral displays.

There will be an arts and crafts exhibition with work of Bay Area artists for the first time in the history of the festival. Among the artists working on the scene will be sculptor Barney West of Sausalito, who will demonstrate tiki carving. There will be displays of paintings, photography, serigraphs, mosiacs, jewelry, pottery and sculpture.

Friday evening there will be dancing in Lytton Square, as well as dances put on by square dancers of Marin. Highlights on Saturday will be a free movie for youngsters at Sequoia Theater and a puppet show in the festival area by Frank Oznowicz of Oakland.

Sunday's festivities will be split between the square and Old Mill Park, with a program

Eight Sight Flying Disk Over Marin

Eight persons—six of them youngsters—declared they saw a mysterious flying disk dart across the skies above Marin County yesterday.

A group of five Greenbrae boys, described by one of the parents as serious-minded and not inclined to flights of fancy, said they saw the object whip through the sky as they watched the partial eclipse of the sun shortly after 4 p.m.

OVAL-SHAPED

Ross Murphy, 10, of 75 Eliseo Drive, described the object as gleaming silver and oval-shaped on top. He said it sped from over San Rafael toward Mount Tamalpais and disappeared in about 20 seconds. The object seemed to emit rays, Ross said.

The sighting was confirmed by his four companions, Bruce McPhun, 10; Robert Adams, 10; Steve Bernheim, 9, and Steven Donati, 10, all of Greenbrae.

Ross said it was neither an airplane nor a balloon.

ZIG-ZAGGED

Three hours later, at 7:45 p.m., a San Anselmo family saw a bright round silvery object zig-zagging across the sky from northwest to southeast.

Julius Galliani and his son, Lowell, were watering their lawn at 80 Lincoln Avenue when they observed the disk weaving through the sky. Mrs. Claire Galliani was called from the house.

"It was bigger and brighter than Echo I satellite," Mrs. Galliani said. "It took almost a minute to cross the sky."

They said it didn't fly in a straight line like other satellites, but instead bounced from side to side.

Two Plots To Kill Nikita Reported

He Skips Today's U.N. Meet

COMBINED AP & UPI

NEW YORK—Two plots against Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev were reported today, causing police to tighten their guard around him.

Khrushchev stayed away from the United Nations General Assembly this afternoon, and told reporters he felt as if he were under house arrest.

DISCOUNT REPORT

Police were inclined to discount this report as just another Soviet propaganda bid, but took the precaution of examining the cameras of some photographers assigned to Khrushchev.

The second reported plot was said to be the brainchild of a group of anti-Communist Hungarians. Police heard they planned to ride on a bus past the Soviet mansion and throw a fire bomb at it.

The buses that operate on that route were detoured and a fire truck and a fire chief's car were stationed outside the Russians' Georgian brick mansion.

REPORT OF PLOT

The report of the gun plot against Khrushchev was made to the State Department yesterday by Lt. Gen. Nikolai Zakharov, the premier's chief security officer.

Zakharov told the State Department a tip had come from the Russian trade mission in Bern, Switzerland, that a former Nazi agent posing as a cameraman would try to shoot Khrushchev some time today with a gun mounted in a camera.

The death plot report capped

JAMES McNAB
'Served long enough'

James McNab Resigns Ross Council Seat

James McNab resigned from the Ross Town Council last night after almost six years service.

He cited business pressures as the reason for his resignation.

McNab turned in his written resignation to Mayor Arthur Kanzee Jr. at the end of a two-hour adjourned meeting. It is effective Oct. 1.

"I feel that five and a half years on the town council is long enough," the 43-year-old San Francisco investment counselor declared.

He was appointed to the council in April, 1955, to fill the unexpired term of Fred Figone, and was elected to a full term in April, 1958. His term expires in April, 1962.

The council is expected to appoint a replacement at its Oct. 13 meeting.

During his term as councilman, McNab has been chairman of the finance committee.

Fulltime Supervisor Plan Eyed

Should the position of county supervisor in Marin County be a fulltime job?

The Marin County Grand Jury is "seriously considering" the idea and is studying whether it should be recommended that the county's part-time supervisors be made full time.

But first it wants to know from the supervisors themselves "where you expect to effect economies to justify such a move."

The matter came before the grand jury's committee on salaries, headed by Harry Heifetz of San Rafael, in its annual consideration of the supervisors' salaries. In individual talks with incumbent supervisors, the committee members "reached the conclusion that the present system of government is not the most efficient," Heifetz said.

In asking the supervisors what business they engaged in besides being supervisors, "we were told that the time needed by the supervisor's job is so

U.S. Launches Scout Rocket; Signals Fail

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An Air Force Blue Scout rocket hurled a payload deep into space today, but the test was marred by loss of signals from the package.

The 40-foot Blue Scout lifted smoothly from this missile test center at 8:02 a.m. and the four solid-fuel stages fired with clocklike precision.

An announcement an hour later said radio signals were being received from the 32.8-pound payload.

A project official then reported at a news conference two hours later that instruments had given an erroneous indication and that radio contact actually was lost eight seconds before the fourth stage burnout.

Lt. Col. Donald A. Stine, project director, said that "all four stages performed perfectly and there is no reason to doubt the payload achieved the 16,600-mile altitude it was supposed to."

Chilly Weather Presages Autumn

Autumn officially arrives tomorrow—and temperatures in Marin this morning felt like it was already here.

The equinox will be reached at 8 p.m. tomorrow, officially opening the fall season.

But this morning, the low temperature at the county firehouse in Woodacre was a chilly 37 degrees; Novato had a low of 43, and San Rafael and San Anselmo both recorded 46.

EIGHT-MONTH JOB

Ross Hires Consultant To Draw Master Plan

The Town of Ross is going to have a master plan.

The town council at an adjourned meeting last night voted 4 to 0 to hire planning consultant James M. Campbell of Menlo Park to do the job. (Campbell recently produced a master plan for neighboring San Anselmo.)

It will cost approximately $2,000 and take about eight months to complete, Mayor Arthur Kanzee Jr. reported.

The council called for the establishing of a master plan for the town as well as a revamping the zoning ordinances and maps.

Councilmen agreed that the study should bring zoning up to date with modern-day thinking "and establish permanently the peoples' desire for a future residential community with a minimum of commercial activity."

Decision to launch work on the town's first master plan was the result of eight months discussion by the council and the general goverment committee composed of Mayor Kanzee and Councilman Harry C. Scott. Campbell is scheduled

Ike To Offer Aid For Africa, Planes For Peace Patrol

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower will offer a vast new plan for African aid and suggest a U.N. aerial peace patrol when he addresses the United Nations tomorrow, the New York Herald Tribune reported today.

The newspaper's lead story said specific proposals in the speech draft cast the world organization in a starring role in contrast with recent Soviet efforts to circumvent the United Nations.

The president, it said, will urge that the United Nations be given greater responsibility than ever in a wide range of affairs, in what amounts to a vote of confidence in the U.N.

The newspaper article describes the program as something in "preventive diplomacy"—designed to have help ready to keep any situation from getting out of hand, instead of rushing in aid after a situation already has become critical.

The New York Times also reported on President Eisenhower's speech, saying that he would renew his "open skies" proposal first suggested at the Geneva summit conference in 1955. The Soviets rejected it then.

The Herald Tribune said it has learned the United States has two ideas on the U.N. role in an "open skies" plan for guarding the world against surprise attack by sending up high-altitude reconnaissance planes.

The airplanes could be flown by pilots recruited by the U.N. and answerable to it. Or the planes could be flown by non-U.N. pilots but under some form of U.N. supervision.

In either case, the United States is prepared to donate the aircraft to be used.

Though no price tag has been placed on a plan for economic aid to Africa, officials see it as a big plan—perhaps as large as the recent 500 million dollars proposed by the United States for raising living standards in Latin America.

Other proposals concerning Africa would let new nations train their own troops through U.N. arrangements; administer the United States' "food for peace" plan through the U.N. instead of through bilateral agreements between Washington and other countries; turn over some uranium-235 to underdeveloped nations in Africa and elsewhere to help build useful energy for industrial purposes.

Crack Train Derails

PORT JERVIS, N. Y. (UPI)—The crack Erie Railroad passenger train Chicago Express was derailed four miles east of Port Jervis early today on a mountainside curve.

Railroad officials said three crewmen were injured and were taken to a hospital, but none of the passengers aboard the train, bound from Hoboken, N. J., to Chicago, was hurt.

Laos Troops Clash

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Gen. Ouane Rathikone, commander of the Laotian army, announced today the first clash in the 11-day-old civil conflict between neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma and former Defense Minister Gen. Phoumi Nosavan.

He said three of Nosavan's soldiers were killed and an undetermined number wounded in a fight yesterday near Paksane, 100 miles northeast of Vientiane. Three of his soldiers were wounded, Rathikone said.

ILWU Neutral

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Neither Vice President Richard M. Nixon nor Sen. John F. Kennedy will receive the support of Harry Bridges' powerful International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

"A vote for either is a vote against a positive program for peace and progress," the union's executive board said yesterday.

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Three African students have sent an open letter to the heads of all African governments charging "constant racial discrimination and threats" while they were studying at Moscow University.

Announcing their intention to "expose Soviet colonialism" before Premier Nikita Khrushchev addresses the United Nations, the three told a news conference in Frankfurt today that they and scores of other African students are leaving Moscow disgusted at Communist pressure.

Cuba Plane Seized

NEW YORK (AP)—A Cubana Airline turbo-prop plane, which arrived at Idlewild Airport last night carrying two Cuban delegates to the United Nations, was seized and placed in the hands of a temporary receiver appointed by New York Court Justice Louis L. Friedman.

The seizure was made on behalf of a Cubana Airline stockholder, who obtained a court order for a temporary receiver for the airline on the grounds that it had been nationalized by the Cuban government and has ceased to do business.

Attorney Stricken

HYANNIS, Mass. (AP)—Joseph N. Welch, counsel for the Army in the 1954 Army-McCarthy hearings, is in a hospital with a heart ailment but a family spokesman says he is "getting along nicely."

A spokesman for his law firm, Hale and Dorr of Boston, said Welch suffered a serious heart attack last Friday. He will be 70 Oct. 22.

A Chad For $22,000

The will of his godmother, Mrs. Cecil Duckworth, said the boy may choose becoming Anthony Duckworth Chad, or Anthony Chad-Duckworth.

Chad was Mrs. Duckworth's maiden name and she was anxious to perpetuate it.

To Restore Palaces

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—The Communists regime's next five-year plan calls for rebuilding many palaces of the former aristocracy.

The palaces, among 113 historic buildings to be rebuilt or reconditioned during the next five years, "are going to be adapted, if possible, to useful purposes," the Polish press agency reported today.

Ike Snubs Castro

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today snubbed Cuban Premier Fidel Castro in inviting representatives of 18 Latin American countries to a special luncheon after his United Nations speech tomorrow.

The Dominican Republic, with whom the United States broke off relations last month, also was left off the list for the lunch.

Bakersfield Blast

BAKERSFIELD (AP)—A heavy explosion that shook buildings and broke windows in the neighborhood occurred this morning in the Bankline Oil Co.'s refinery five miles north of Bakersfield.

A spokesman for the company said only part of the plant was involved and there were no injuries.

MERCED (UPI)—Army CWO Clarence Ashley, 35, confessed last night that he kidnaped and murdered little Angie May Stewart last month.

The confession came a few hours after Ashley was committed to Atascadero State Hospital. Two court appointed psychiatrists had declared Ashley to be insane.

Kennedy Pledges Fast Action; Nixon Paints Rival As Naive

Demo Nominee Again Blasts Administration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy says the next president must act first and fast to strengthen the cause of peace—and cannot merely wait for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's next move.

Pledging he would follow such a course if elected, the Democratic nominee last night told a coast-to-coast television audience of the steps he would take "first and fast" to meet the Communist challenge.

CALL REJECTED

In doing so, Kennedy rejected the call of his Republican rival, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, for a moratorium on talk of American weakness and for solid backing of President Eisenhower while Khrushchev is in the country for the United Nations General Assembly.

Speaking at a $100-a-plate Democratic rally where 1,300 diners cheered him again and again, Kennedy coupled criticism of the Eisenhower administration with his attack on the Soviets.

TRIP AHEAD

Starting today with a series of speeches in Tennessee, Kennedy will be on the road 19 days on a tour that will take him into 13 other states—from the East Coast to the Rocky Mountains.

The Democratic candidate, in saying the next president must act first and fast in dealing with the Soviets, set forth this as the program he has in mind:

On the military front: He would speedily send Congress a special message "requesting the funds and authority necessary to give us a nuclear retaliatory power second to none, make it invulnerable to surprise attack, and add conventional forces so strong and so mobile and so modern that they can stamp out any brushfire war before it spreads."

AID PROGRAM

Non-military front: He would request America's more prosperous North Atlantic Treaty allies and possibly Japan and certain other countries to join with the United States in a program of aid to underdeveloped nations, with the purpose of averting Communist exploitation.

Domestic front: He would launch an "all-out attack on poverty in this prosperous country." Poverty in the midst of plenty, Kennedy suggested, lowers America's prestige in the free world.

MAN CONQUERS SHARK IN PLOT BY HEMINGWAY

BONE, Algeria (UPI) — Uny the fisherman never heard of Ernest Hemingway, but his encounter with a huge shark paralleled the story of "Old Man and the Sea."

Uny, a 55-year-old Algerian, went to sea yesterday alone as usual in his tiny boat and a 45-pound umbrine swam into his net. Seconds later, a 990-pound blue shark surged into the net in hot pursuit.

The fisherman grabbed the net rope and pulled it tight around the huge shark. Thrashing violently, the huge shark pulled Uny's boat back and forth and around in circles. Hour after hour, the shark fought, but Uny held on even though the rope tore at his hands until they bled.

After an all-night battle, the shark was vanquished and Uny summoned all his strength to haul the carcass to the side of his small boat. It took a harbor crane to haul the huge blue killer out of the water.

GOP Candidate Also Hits Foe For Labor Ties

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vice President Richard M. Nixon stepped up his Midwestern vote drive today, picturing his Democratic presidential rival as naive about the Communist mind and beholden to big labor unions.

The GOP nominee chose Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic candidate, and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as twin targets in a swing through Michigan yesterday.

CHARGE REPEATED

Nixon, noting Khrushchev's ominous presence in New York for the United Nations session, repeated his charge that the Massachusetts senator show a naive attitude about Khrushchev and the men in the Kremlin.

Nixon proposed, too, in talks at Mount Clemens, Flint and Saginaw, a political moratorium on talk of American weakness or division, a central theme in Kennedy's political address.

Then, in Bay City Nixon renewed his appeal for rank and file labor votes in that heavily organized state.

CROWD OF 9,000

To a crowd of more than 9,000 in a dew-dampened high school stadium, Nixon again told his audience he would not say what he quoted Kennedy as saying in Detroit on Labor Day—that he was 100 per cent for everything the labor leaders want and 100 per cent against what they oppose.

"The president of the United States has to be for all the people and he must belong to no one group 100 per cent," Nixon declared.

"I feel it to be my responsibility to stand for what is best for all Americans—union members and non-union members."

Reds Impose New Berlin Travel Ban

BERLIN (UPI)—The Communists today sealed off East Berlin to Western diplomats and banned them from traveling to the city without special permission.

The new restriction on Berlin traffic apparently did not apply to American, British and French diplomats who have a special occupation status under four-power agreements still recognized by the Soviets.

The Communists announced diplomats accredited to the West German government would need permission of the East German Foreign Ministry to enter East Germany or East Berlin.

To emulate the touring professionals at putting, an amateur golfer would have to one-putt six of every 18 holes.

Philippine Missiles

MANILA (UPI)—The United States will turn over more 200 Sidewinder air-to-air missiles to the Philippines air force Friday to reinforce this country's defenses, official sources said today.

Police, Demonstrators Brawl In N.Y. Streets

NEW YORK (AP)—Club swinging police and riotous demonstrators battled into the night after yesterday's opening session of the United Nations General Assembly.

The brawls swirled around midtown streets as task forces of police and mounted patrolmen moved swiftly to curb the disorders.

Eggs and lighted firecrackers were hurled at police—who pushed and shoved and fought back with clubs.

At least three demonstrators were injured and four arrested.

The heavy police security was praised by most New Yorkers—but damned by some Communist bloc chieftains.

Stealing the spotlight yesterday was the meeting in Harlem between Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro. The controversial leaders talked for 22 minutes in Castro's hotel, then emerged with their arms around each other's shoulders.

The large assembly of Communist bloc leaders—and the Castro entourage—gave police their biggest security headache. About 8,000 police have been assigned to protect them.

Helping make matters more trying for hard working police was the large melange of foreign-born residents in this city of eight million. Many came from East European countries and lands now under Communist rule.

The worst of the street brawls erupted near the U.N. headquarters and the Soviet headquarters for its U.N. mission.

In one three-hour melee near the U. N., mounted policemen charged about 50 Ukrainian and Hungarian pickets. Many were thrown to the ground.

Fists and nightsticks flew later when police and mounted patrolmen tangled with demonstrators near the Soviet building.

Three fights at the United Nations involved the Ukrainians and the police; a fourth involved the anti-Greek Albanians and anti-Albanian Greeks. A fifth was between anti-Castro and pro-Castro Cubans.

College Grads Set Record At Seminary

With the close of registration this week, Golden Gate Baptist Seminary at Strawberry now has the largest enrollment of college graduate students in its history, Dr. Harold K. Graves, seminary president, announced.

Final figures for the 1960 fall session show an over-all enrollment of 308, a decrease of 10 from last year. However, there are more college graduates at the seminary than ever before.

"Although we were expecting a considerable gain in enrollment this year," Dr. Graves said "we still have expectations of reaching 400 in 1961."

"It is significant" he continued, "that our largest decline is in students without college degrees. They are now completing college work before coming to the seminary."

Students are enrolled from 34 states and seven foreign countries, including Spain, Italy, China, Japan, Hong Kong, Cuba, and Canada. California leads in the number of students with 55, followed by Texas with 48 and Oklahoma with 30.

Breakdown of enrollment figures shows 196 Bachelor of Divinity students; 56 Masters of Religious Education; 9 Master of Church Music; 27 Master of Theology; and 20 certificate, or non-college. Ninety-three per cent of the students are college graduates.

Mill Valley Police To Auction 20 Bikes

Twenty bicycles will be put up for public auction at 10 a.m. Oct. 1 at the Mill Valley city parking lot adjoining the city hall, Capt. Joe Canet said today.

Police will handle the sale, selling the bikes, in various states of repair, to the highest bidder for cash.

Russ Handed Propaganda Loss In U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The United States appeared today to have won the initial skirmishes in the cold war battle with the Soviet Union for friendship and support of the 13 new African nations admitted yesterday to the United Nations.

President Eisenhower was expected to press that initial advantage tomorrow by proposing a sweeping aid program under U.N. supervision to the newly independent African nations.

NEW PLAN

He also was reported to have prepared a new disarmament plan that would call for U.N. supervision of a world wide aerial inspection system.

In the background was the bouncing Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev who began plugging for peace and total disarmament the moment he stepped off the Russian liner Baltika Monday morning to attend the 15th annual U.N. General Assembly session.

Against him were diplomatic setbacks which newspapers throughout the Free World described today as one of the worst propaganda defeats Russia has ever suffered.

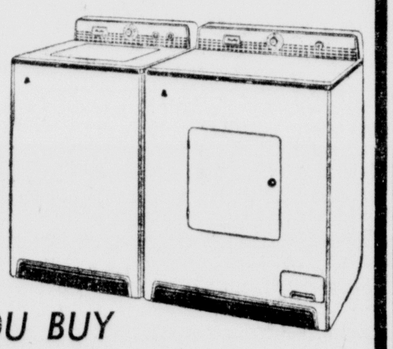

CONGO DEFEAT

That was the 70-0 defeat inflicted in an emergency U.N. session early yesterday when Afro-Asian nations joined in supporting Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's Congo policies.

Russia, which had backed the losing Patrice Lumumba in the Congo with planes, technicians and Czech arms, was forced to pack up and leave Leopoldville last Saturday in another humiliating defeat. It received a rebuff yesterday when the U.N. assembly elected U.S.-supported Irish ambassador Frederich H. Boland as assembly president.

Hopps' Stepson Must Face Federal Charge

Robert S. Hopps, 32-year-old stepson of Belvedere financier Stewart B. Hopps, was ordered removed to Baltimore to face a federal mail fraud indictment and was held in $5,000 bail today in U. S. District Court in San Francisco.

The younger Hopps, a Belvedere auto repair shop owner, was indicted with his stepfather Aug. 30 by a Baltimore grand jury. He was described as "administrator" of the defunct International Guaranty and Insurance Co. with headquarters in Tangiers, Morocco.

Hopps surrendered yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Joseph Karesh. He said he had been out of the state and unable to surrender earlier.

A district court spokesman said no date had been set yet for Robert Hopps' appearance in Baltimore.

Ohio Flyer Wins Rick's Air Contest

Maj. Milan R. Forkapa of Toledo, Ohio, today won the Rick's Memorial Trophy in the nationwide Air National Guard competition that wound up at Hamilton Air Force Base this morning.

Major Forkapa, who was not even in the first three after yesterday's competition, came up strong this morning in high altitude bombing and race from Victorville to Hamilton to top the field of 12 pilots. He is from the 112th Strategic Fighter Squadron in Toledo. He got 658 points out of a possible 1,000.

Second place winner is Lt. Col. Paul E. Hoover of Columbus, Ohio, with 532 points. He had the best speed race time of 40 minutes 44 seconds.

The race is held in conjunction with the Air Force Assn. convention which opened today and continues through Sunday in San Francisco. It includes reunions, organization of a fighter ace association, policy talks by top air generals and a public exhibit of the latest in missiles and manned aircraft at Brooks Hall in the Civic Center on Sunday.

JURY

great they found it impossible to be in other business," the chairman went on.

"The next natural question we asked ourselves was, if being a supervisor has become a fulltime job, shouldn't we have 'career supervisors,' people devoting full time to the work?"

In a letter to the supervisors, the committee declared:

"The grand jury committee on salaries is giving serious consideration to the proposal that supervisors should be engaged on a fulltime basis. . . .

"In order for this committee to reach an intelligent decision, we ask that you kindly send us a detailed letter in which among other things will be your individual and or unanimous opinions as to the benefits to the people of this county from such a move.

"We would want to know in a dollar and cents breakdown, just where you expect to effect economies to justify such a move.

"We would want to know how such a change would increase efficiency in government."

Heifetz made clear that the letter "doesn't necessarily mean this is the recommendation we're going to make."

Man Checks Out Early With TV Set And Clock

Charles Dewey Owen, owner of the motel, told Police Officer John Rosentangle the man checked in about 11 a.m. yesterday, giving his name as Charles A. Gable. Gable said he was here to entertain at San Quentin Prison, and his boss was flying in from Los Angeles. The man borrowed an alarm clock from Owen so that he could get up early this morning.

He apparently got up early. When Owen checked this morning, the man had vanished. So had a $135 portable television and the alarm clock. The only think the man paid for was $6.50 motel bill when he checked in.

Castro remained at his hotel in Harlem today. President Tito of Yugoslavia was closeted at his U.N. mission working on the speech he will deliver to the assembly tomorrow. Tito is expected to make a bid for leadership of the so-called neutralist nations.

But world attention will focus tomorrow on President Eisenhower and what he has to say about aid to the new nations of Africa, safeguards against a spark setting off World War III, and his responses to Khrushchev's challenges on disarmament.

Eisenhower will remain in New York overnight for talks with other government leaders attending the historic assembly session, but not with Khrushchev or Castro.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, who announced the conference today, declined to identify the foreign leaders the president will see in his hotel suite after his address to the U. N. But he stressed that neither Khrushchev nor Castro would be on the guest list.

The Soviet premier was the target of two fierce demonstrations yesterday.

Mounted police charged one crowd. Night sticks were used on another. Howling men and women retaliated, hurling eggs and firecrackers.

It was against this background that the General Assembly began the second day of its deliberations — a day in which issues dividing the East and West were to come up for consideration.

The agenda for this 15th session is the heaviest in the Assembly's history, with 87 proposed subjects for discussion.

Some are listed simply as "Question of Hungary," and "Question of Tibet." Both were the scenes of bloody uprisings, one against the Soviets, the second against the Communist Chinese.

The admission of 14 new nations added an element of uncertainty as to how voting may go. They were 13 African republics and the newly created Republic of Cyprus.

The list brings U. N. membership to 96, nearly twice the original 51 members of 1945.

During the opening session of the assembly yesterday Khrushchev made himself highly conspicuous. He shook hands, posed for photographers, waved to other Communist delegations.

Then he rose from his chair, walked across the width of the great hall, and warmly shook hands with Castro.

He personally went to the rostrum to cast the Soviet ballot in the voting for president, which put Ireland's Frederick H. Boland in the chair.

One by one the representatives of the 82 delegations filed up and dropped a ballot.

The result was a Soviet defeat — 46 votes for Boland to 25 for Soviet-backed Jiri Nosek of Czechoslavakia, and nine for Thor Thors of Iceland.

Dupuis Resigns Place On Recreation Board

Fred G. Dupuis's resignation from the Southern Marin Recreation Center Board of Directors has been "accepted with regret," president Fred W. Zimmerman said today. Hamilton Holt of Belvedere succeeds Dupuis.

Gun Toter Denies Guilt

Indio rancher Mattias Kornell, 44, pleaded innocent before a visiting judge in Marin County Municipal Court yesterday to charges of disturbing the peace and displaying a firearm in a threatening manner

Kornell was arrested Aug. 7 after a brawl in his brother-in-law's Belvedere home. The owner's 17-year-old son kayoed Kornell with a baseball bat after the rancher allegedly held his estranged wife, Joelle, and five other persons at gun point.

A felony charge of assault with a deadly weapon was reduced to the two misdemeanor counts by the district attorney's office last week.

to start work on the plan immediately.

Also last night the council directed Town Atty. Robert Elliott to revise the curfew law and "make it more realistic." The ordinance prohibits juveniles from the streets after 9 p.m.

The council declared it didn't want youngsters roaming the streets all night, but the deadline should be reasonable.

Before handing in his resignation last night, Councilman James McNab presented his report on the improvement of walkways in the town.

As the first step in the program he suggested that a three to four foot wide black top walkway be laid on the south side of Lagunitas Road from Willow Avenue to Woodside Way—a distance of about 900 feet. He said the work could be done by street department crews as time allowed.

His report—the result of a two-week study—was directed to keep children from walking in the roadway.

The council also voted to join the county civil defense operational plan.

There was no discussion on the appointment of a citizens' advisory group, suggested at the preceding council meeting by Mayor Kanzee. Such a group, he said, could aid the council in getting the public's view of controversial items.

"I don't know how I can do it," he went on. "But you appoint these judges for life—you don't appoint them for life but in effect, most of them are re-elected, and I just want to know as much about it as I possibly can. That has caused some delay in some of my appointments in these cases."

He did not reveal the names of the "two or three" candidates nor specifically indicate when the appointment would be made.

OBITUARIES

Retired Rail Advertising Executive Dies

Frederick Q. Tredway of Belvedere, originator of Southern Pacific Co.'s famous slogan, "next time, try the train," died yesterday in Southern Pacific Hospital in San Francisco after a short illness. He was 67.

Tredway retired in 1958 as assistant vice president in charge of passenger system public relations of Southern Pacific, after 37 years in the company's advertising department during which he reportedly supervised the spending of some 30 million dollars on advertising.

He joined Southern Pacific in 1921 after a brief career in newspaper work during which he became city editor of the Bakersfield Californian.

Tredway was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., but came to California in his teens and attended University of California. For the past 10 years, he had resided at 4 Hilarita Circle, Belvedere.

He served in the army in World War I, after his graduation from U.C., seeing a year's overseas duty in Europe.

He was an honorary life member of the San Francisco Press and Union League Club, a director of the Redwood Empire Assn. and a past president of the Assn. of Railroad Advertising Managers. In 1955, he received a gold medal from the Art Directors Club of San Francisco for advancement of art and design in advertising.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 4 p.m. at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Belvedere, directed by Russell and Gooch of Mill Valley. The widow requests that tributes be contributions to the remembrance fund of St. Stephen's Parish.

A hurricane is called a "typhoon" in the China Sea, a "baguio" in the Philippines, and a "cyclone" in the Bay of Bengal.

Sleepy Hollow Civic Leader Dies Of Heart Attack

Col. Jesse J. France, (U.S.A., ret.), Sleepy Hollow civic leader, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at his home at 100 Legend Road, yesterday afternoon.

One of the earliest residents of Sleepy Hollow, Colonel France had long been active in civic affairs there. He was also active in Red Cross affairs, serving for several years as chairman of the county disaster council and as a member of the home service committee. He was also a member of several Boy Scout committees.

He was retired from the Army in 1949 after a 32-year career which began in World War I. He served with American Expeditionary Force in France, and his Army years spanned service throughout the United States and in the Philippines.

During World War II, he served in special services. A field artillery officer, he was a holder of the Legion of Merit and the Bronze Star.

He is survived by his wife, Fern; two daughters, Mrs. Irene Saint John of Terra Linda and Mrs. Mary Stith of Olympia, Wash.; four sons, Jesse J. France Jr. of Ross, Richard France of Terra Linda, David France of San Anselmo and John France of Zaragoza, Spain; 12 grandchildren and two brothers, Frank France of Roseburg, Ore., and Gary France of Palmyra, Mo.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 10 a.m. at the Presidio of San Francisco Chapel. Burial will be in Presidio National Cemetery. The family requests that tributes be contributions to the Heart Fund.

Retired Teacher Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Evelyn Dourte of Corte Madera, who gave her life to education, willed her body to the same cause.

Mrs. Doute, 71, died early today in a local hospital. One of her last instructions, reported her daughter, Mrs. Jack De Mille, was that her body be given to University of California for research.

Mrs. Doute had resided with her daughter at 12 Birch Avenue, Corte Madera, since retiring from school teaching five years ago in Sioux City, Iowa. She had also taught for many years in Havre, Mont.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. De Mille and Mrs. Thomas J. Upton of Tacoma, Wash.; a son, Myron Dourte of Omaha, Neb., and four grandchildren.

THE FAMOUS PACKAGE IS STILL SILVER FOIL, BUT NOW THE FACE OF IT IS WHITE

The new easy-to-read white-face label does help you pick out Philadelphia Brand from all the look-alike cream cheese packages. Funny thing, isn't it, that other cheesemakers have made their packages so similar to Philadelphia Brand? Could it be that they know you know that Philadelphia Brand...guaranteed fresh by KRAFT...always tastes the best of all?

TERRIFIC IMPACT — Sturdy concrete railing of San Rafael overpass crumbled when car hurtled against it last night. Mrs. Merle Dreyer Keskula, 38, of Santa Venetia, driver of the demolished car, suffered severe injuries. Fragments from the rail or car broke windows in a building below the viaduct.

Novato Plans Barbecue For Bleacher Fund

Four hundred chickens are being readied for the hot coals Saturday at a benefit barbecue to raise money to buy bleachers for the Novato High School football field.

The Novato post of Veterans of Foreign Wars is aiming at $1,000 to be turned over to the high school, post commander Pius Schwan reported.

NO HOME FIELD

The Novato High football team has no home to call its own. Home games are just designated "home" and played on other fields.

The four-year-old high school has a playing field — but no bleachers and no fence to keep out non-paying spectators. Four freshman games and one jayvee game will be played in Novato this year; none of the varsity games will be in Novato.

The bleachers would cost $6,000 to $10,000 for seating for 1,200 to 1,500 spectators, Supt. W. J. J. Smith of Novato Unified School District said. Fencing will cost another $5,000 to $6,000. And the district does not have the money. "Other things are more essential," Smith said.

THE MENU

Beginning at 11 a.m. Saturday, barbecued chicken, tossed salad, potato salad, beans, hot rolls, coffee, beer and soft drinks will be on tap at the Lions Club picnic grounds on Novato Boulevard near Stafford Lake. Signs will point the way, Schwan said.

In addition to food, entertainment will include games of skill, he said.

Proceeds from the barbecue will go into a "kitty" which already contains about $1,000 raised through efforts of the High School Parents Club.

TED KENNEDY TO ATTEND MARIN DINNER

Marin Citizens for Kennedy will host a public campaign dinner tomorrow with western states campaign manager Ted Kennedy as the prime attraction.

The dinner will begin at 8:30 p.m. at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio. Guests will include Ted, brother of presidential candidate John Kennedy, Judge David Baty of San Rafael, and Adm. John Harlee, Northern California chairman of the Citizens for Kennedy.

KTIM To Air Terra Linda Rec Program

A group of Terra Linda residents will discuss the proposed recreation program for Terra Linda and what it will mean to the residents on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Guests of Kitty Oppenheimer, moderator, will be Jack Brandon, director of the Terra Linda Community Services District; Henry Pierce, member of the Terra Linda Recreation Steering Committee; Anton Lonich and Katherine Munson.

Questions from listeners will be presented to the panel durin the broadcast. The program will be heard also Sunday at 12:30 p.m. via tape-recording.

Debate Looms Between State Senate Rivals

A public debate, or series of them, between State Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael and his Democratic opponent, Charles M. Geller of San Anselmo, began to take shape today.

Geller proposed the debates in a letter to McCarthy offering "to debate the issues at one or more times and places in the county as may be arranged to mutual satisfaction."

The San Anselmo electrician indicated he would like to challenge McCarthy on his "often-repeated position of standing on your record." He proposed each man name "a second" to arrange the details.

McCarthy was enthusiastic about the idea. "Of course I'll accept the challenge," he told the Independent-Journal. "It is very nice of him to make the offer. Public debate is a very healthy thing as far as the people are concerned.'

He said, however, he doesn't see any need of naming "seconds" to set up the debates.

Alto Board To Meet

The Alto Sanitary District board will hold a meeting, postponed from Sept. 5, at 7 p.m. today at the Alto Firehouse, secretary Sidney Dooray announced.

TEEN-AGER TESTIFIES

Grandmother Accused Of Plotting Arson

A tale of arson and fraud involving a Petaluma grandmother and a discharged Hamilton Air Force Base airman was blurted out by a teen-age girl yesterday during the trial of Mrs. May Gale in Sonoma County Superior Court at Santa Rosa.

On the stand was Mrs. Betty Jean Gilbert, 19, Mrs. Gale's granddaughter.

Mrs. Gale, 65, is charged with three counts of arson and three counts of defrauding an insurance company by destroying property valued at about $16,000. The trial was continued today.

She is accused of hiring David S. Aughtman, 22, to burn three houses which she owned just north of Petaluma last March 20. Aughtman, who was dishonorably discharged from the Air Force in February earlier, pleaded guilty to arson and was sentenced to one year in the Sonoma County Jail.

Mrs. Gilbert shocked defense attorney James Jones Jr. by stating that her grandmother continually plotted to burn down houses to collect insurance money.

Mrs. Gilbert was supposed to be a witness in her grandmother's defense. Instead she testified that Mrs. Gale offered her $50 and a place to stay if she would burn down a house.

She said she broke off with Aughtman, her fiance, because he wouldn't let her drive a used car that Mrs. Gale had given him for burning down one of her houses.

The girl said she was afraid to tell the truth before because she was frightened and didn't want to turn her family against her.

She said her grandmother would have thrown her out of the house and that her father, who lives in San Rafael, and her mother in Napa didn't want her.

The girl's testimony startled the tight-lipped grandmother, who wept silently.

Insurance agents testified that their companies had paid Mrs. Gale (then Mrs. May Bowers) $16,000 for the fire damage.

Spray Day Tomorrow For San Rafael Trees

San Rafael city crews will spray elm and walnut trees tomorrow between 7 a.m. and noon, Public Works Supt. Norris M. Rawles announced today.

Walnut and elm trees on Grand Avenue between Fifth and Belle Avenues will be sprayed first. Then workmen will go to Fifth Avenue near H Street and West End School to spray elm trees. Rawles said the spraying is to control aphis.

First Five Years Of Childhood Are Vital In Formation Of Character

Is character formed through pain on the seat of the pants?

Partly. But there are other avenues as well.

Character formation starts early. By the time your boy is 5 his basic standards are set. He gets them from what you say and do. He needs your minute by minute guidance while he's small.

He starts rebelling when he's 3. Suddenly he's bad, mean, dishonest. He drives you wild. But his rebellion is necessary. He must experiment with bad behavior and suffer the consequences. He's learning even while he is fighting you. His conscience is built in the conflict.

Can you give your boy good character traits? Yes, if you provide three things.

The first is love. Without love he has nothing. Let him know you love him, no matter what he does. Let him sense your support. Respond to his affection.

His second need is consistent guidance. He should know what to expect. He should have clear ideas of good and bad, right and wrong. You and your spouse should agree on your rules. He should understand them. If one is strict and the other is easy, your child will have trouble.

His final need is growth. Loosen your apron strings as fast as you can. When he's 5 he should have more freedom than when he was 3. At 18 he can be almost independent. At 14 he can't be.

Once he realizes that he'll be given freedom as quickly as he proves himself trustworthy, he will try hard.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My husband has a terrible weakness for gambling. He keeps us poor. Will our boy inherit his weakness?" A.B.

(A) He won't inherit it physically. However, he may "inherit" it by imiation. Let's hope not.

Santa Venetia Woman Hurt In Car Crash

A Santa Venetia housewife suffered fractured ribs and severe cuts on her face and body about 11 o'clock last night when her car went out of control on the San Rafael overpass, crossed the divider strip and knocked out a huge chunk of concrete railing.

The impact sent debris flying onto buildings on Fourth Street below the viaduct and cracked a glass window in the county welfare department building at 622 Fourth Street. About 15 feet of the concrete railing was knocked out.

The driver, Mrs. Merle Dreyer Keskula, 38, of 821 Estancia Way, was in San Rafael General Hospital today in "fair" condition. She suffered cuts on face, head, elbows and right knee, and broken ribs.

California Highway Patrol Officer E. C. Carrell said Mrs. Keskula was in no condition to be questioned about the mishap.

Her 1955 sedan, headed north over the viaduct, apparently grazed the right rail, then swerved left, crossing the entire highway and crashed into the opposite rail.

When patrolmen arrived, Mrs. Keskula was sitting inside the wrecked car, bleeding about the face and head. No other car appeared to be involved.

Marin Man Booked On Hunting Charge

Paul H. Weik, 50, of 12 Ross Street, San Rafael, was arrested at his home late yesterday on a warrant charging him with hunting on posted grounds in Lake County.

He was booked at the county jail by Sgt. Lincoln Borba of San Rafael police and released on $150 bail. Weik is scheduled to appear Sept. 30 in municipal court of the Lower Lake County Judicial District for arraignment on the misdemeanor charge.

Seniors Slate Closing Picnic

Members will take their own lunch and table service. Coffee will be served. Games are planned after lunch.

Mrs. E. M. Grote, publicity chairman, urged members to take their friends.

PUC Upholds Angel Island Ferry Plans

The California Public Utilities Commission yesterday upheld the right of the Harbor Tug and Barge Co. of San Francisco and Milton McDonough of Tiburon to operate ferry service to Angel Island.

The PUC rejected the petition of Russell Lewis of Sausalito for a rehearing on the pair's permits to operate. Lewis has for more than a year operated a service between Sausalito and the state park on the island and some months ago opened a San Francisco office and dock for the same purpose. Harbor Tug would offer service from San Francisco while McDonough would operate a boat between Tiburon and the island.

Lewis claimed in his petition for rehearing that he had added evidence regarding operation of his own service and that of the other two.

The PUC, in a one paragraph ruling, said it found "no good cause for granting a rehearing" in the two cases.

A cream-smooth ride

A Full Coil suspension ride, in other words. And Corvair combines Full Coil suspension with independent suspension at all four wheels, so people who ride in Corvairs get a silky-smooth ride.

Energy with economy

Chevrolet owners have two budget-minded engines to pick from: the famous Hi-Thrift 6 and the Economy Turbo-Fire V8. And Corvair owners enjoy the savings of an air-cooled Turbo-Air 6.

Smoother, safer stops

Chevy's Corvair, with its rear-engine design, gives better balanced braking even in hard stops. And those husky Safety-Master brakes on the 1960 Chevy show that this is the kind of friend to count on.

Chevy owners know what they want...

...and nobody knows it better than Chevrolet!

Who knows more about what car buyers want than car owners? Nobody—which is why Chevrolet established its Owner Relations Program, the only one of its kind in the industry.

It works this way: Periodically, a Chevrolet representative sits down with a tape recorder and a group of Chevy owners—and he listens. He records every gripe, every bouquet, every comment the owners come up with. This sort of thing happens across the country, with people who drive Chevrolets, Corvairs and Chevrolet trucks.

And you can be sure we're paying close attention to what comes out of these meetings and other facets of our Program. You can see that reflected in the sales figures: People buy the car that's closest to their ideas of perfection—and that means Chevy.

In fact, Chevrolet's sales (including Corvair) are bigger this year than ever before in our history.

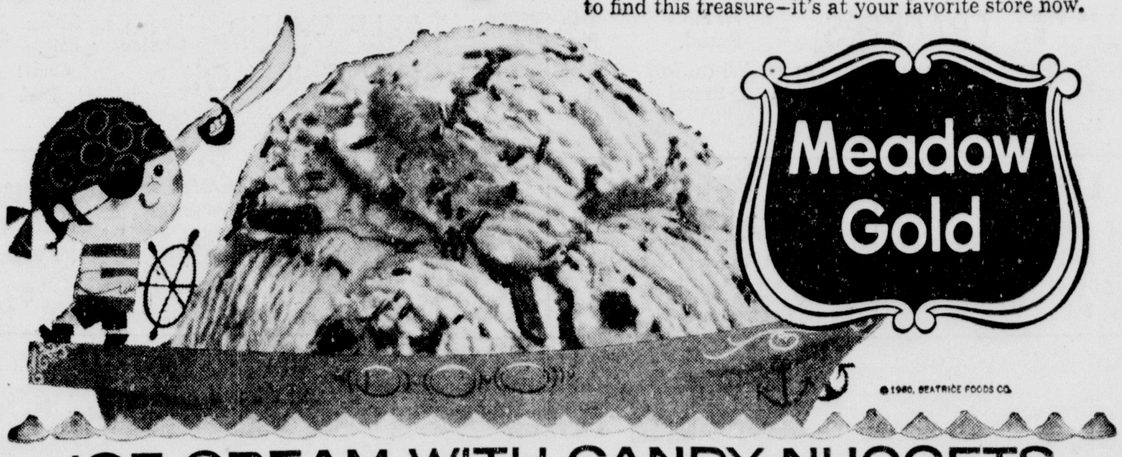

It all boils down to this: Chevrolet is vitally interested in your complete satisfaction with our products and services—now, and for as long as you own a Chevrolet. And as your ideas about automotive products and services change, we'll be changing right along with them. Our Owner Relations Program will play an important part in making sure of it.

ICE CREAM WITH CANDY NUGGETS

Sausalito Eatery Offered To City

Owner Albert K. Engel through his attorney, Michael Lawton offered to sell the waterfront eating place to the city for $25,000, to be payable in 25 annual installments of $1,000.

By leasing the property back to Engel at $1,000 a year, the city would be getting the land free, the attorney said. Pending the widening of Bridgeway and for a minimum of three years, the city would permit Engel to maintain his building at its present location or permit him to construct a deck or platform over the westerly 40 feet of the property for his own use. Engel would move the deck after three years upon 60 days notice if the city decided to widen Bridgeway.

After expiration of the 25-year lease proposed, Engel would have an option to renew the lease for an additional 15 years.

Council members decided the proposal needed more discussion and referred it to a committee headed by Councilman Michael Harris.

Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. said, "I think whenever we can get property free it is a good thing." But he objected to portions of the proposal.

Several people spoke from the audience. Applause rang out when someone favored retaining the old red landmark at its present location.

New Police Officer Added In Sausalito

The Sausalito City Council voted unanimously last night to hire an additional police officer.

Approval was given in the light of the large number of summer house burglaries and the heavy increase in tourists.

Examinations will be given for two officers early in October, City Manager Charles A. Brown said. One is to be for the added officer approved last night, the other to replace Robert E. Borzone, critically injured recently in an automobile accident and unable to return to work for approximately a year.

The council approved transferring $3,300 in unallocated funds to pay salary of the added police officer for the remainder of the fiscal year.

'SPACE LADY' SETS ALTITUDE MARK IN PLANE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jerrie Cobb, 29, the attractive blonde who may be the United States' first woman in space, set a world altitude record for light planes yesterday.

The flier from Oklahoma City, Okla., donned three arctic survival suits, fur-lined boots and three pairs of gloves and in an hour and 49 minutes flew a two-engined plane to 37,010 feet — just over seven miles.

The former record for this class of plane was 34,862 feet. She made the flight from Santa Monica.

Miss Cobb was chosen for U.S. astronaut tests at the Lovelace Institute in Albuquerque, N.M., because of her flying record and physical condition.

Park Report Discussion Set Tonight

A four-page report outlining a master park and recreation program for San Rafael will be discussed at a joint meeting of the city's planning and park and recreation commissions at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the planning office at the E Street School.

The group is expected to consider a recommendation on the program for the city council.

Planning consultant Kenneth Anderson of Roseville, who has been employed by the city since October, 1959, refused to make his report public at the latest planning commission meeting. He said, however, that the five-point program emphasizes waterfront recreational development. Planning cost will run about $32,000, he estimated.

At the end of 1958, the American petroleum industry represented an estimated gross investment in fixed assets of $51.2 billion.

267 SIGN PETITION

Sausalito To Seek Greyhound Bus Depot

A Sausalito City Council-appointed committee will try to get a Greyhound Bus depot for Sausalito.

Mrs. Dorothea Washbourne of 211 Richardson Street last night presented the city council a petition bearing 267 signatures, asking that Western Greyhound Lines be urged to re-establish a depot in the city. Sausalito now has only curbside bus stops.

She asked for a station providing ticket sales, schedule information, and package and baggage service.

Mrs. Washbourne promptly was named by Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich as chairman of a citizen committee to try to locate a business place willing to serve as bus depot and ticket agent. Councilman Marjorie Brady and Elmer A. Verry, district superintendent of Greyhound, were named to serve with her. Another member is to be named by the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce. The committee is to report to the council Oct. 18.

The council also:

1. Agreed to recommend that T. J. De Lasaux of Mill Valley be reappointed as a Marin County director of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District. De LaSaux's term expires Oct. 27.

2. Accepted a contribution from Sausalito Woman's Club for landscaping the parking lot at Bridgeway and Humboldt Avenue.

3. Continued for two weeks a hearing on a request that William H. McDevitt, San Rafael builder, present some way to move three of his proposed apartment buildings on South Street back from the bay's edge.

4. Authorized City Manager Charles A. Brown to draw up an agreement with the attorney of Byron Edwards which would give city a lien on Edwards' San Francisco property, thus raising money for city to move one of the Edwards barges now on an underwater city street.

5. Approved plans and specifications for enlargement of Turney Street launching ramp.

6. Heard the city manager report "How fast the tourist rush to Sausalito has been," citing parking lot in-take in 1958 at $800, in 1959 at $1,600 and in 1960 at $3,080.

7. Directed the city manager to block off the small parking lot of the Ondine Restaurant is owners refuse to pay the $50 monthly rental which is some months overdue.

8. Reintroduced an ordinance to provide for a loading zone in front of Purity Stores and to eliminate the crosswalk on Bridgeway in front of the store.

9. Accepted a $5 check from Fanny Shoobert, an old-time Sausalito resident now living in San Anselmo, to help repair the Poets' Bench, which has been scarred by vandals.

Public Works Dept. Job Survey Voted

The Marin County Board of Supervisors by a 3-to-2 vote yesterday asked for a check on the amount of work the county public works department does with its own equipment instead of by contract with private industry.

The supervisors requested the department and the auditor's office to work with representatives of the Engineering and Grading Contractors Assn. on the survey.

A request for such a study came from Warren R. Mendel, state manager of the association.

Mendel said the association felt the county generally should be restricted to maintenance and emergency work, and that major construction work should be done by private contract.

He also noted that the county had an extensive inventory of heavy equipment.

Supervisors Vera L. Schultz and Chairman Walter R. Castro voted against the motion for the survey. The former said she felt the expenditure of time, money and effort was not justified.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who made the motion, said the survey would result in a "wholesome atmosphere" afterward.

Castro said he felt the same as Mrs. Schultz and that Marvin W. Brigham, public works director, should not be "put on the spot."

Brigham said he had no objection to the survey, but he pointed out that it took a certain size crew to maintain county roads in the winter, and it was necesary to keep these men busy all year around.

"The jobs we are doing which the contractors apparently are objecting to, are road mixes and installation of underground storm drains," he said.

The public works director charged that the association representatives misinterpreted the information they had and did not study the budget.

Man Who Led Rin Tin Tin To Fame Dies

RIVERSIDE (AP) — Death has claimed a man who found a puppy in a German trench in the first World War and made it an American institution—four generations known as Rin Tin Tin.

In his kennels he left a German shepherd puppy he was training to carry on the traditions of almost 42 years of film and television canines.

The First Rin Tin Tin returned from Europe with Duncan after World War I and became a top movie attraction from 1922 to 1932, sharing billing with such stars as William Desmond, Jean Hersholt, Wallace Beery and Charles Farrell.

Bitter Creek, Wyo., is in Sweetwater County.

San Rafael Shoe Store Expands, Adds Lines

Chapman's Shoes at 1236 Fourth Street, San Rafael, has completed an expansion and remodeling program that gives the store room for a complete men's and boys' section and more space for teen-age, women's and children's shoes.

The store has expanded by taking over the former Herbert and Rohrer Jewelry Store next door and remodeling it. Herbert and Rohrer has moved to the former Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. building at 1219 Fourth Street.

A new front has been installed to match that on the original building, and connecting passageways have been cut.

Chapman said the store, with a 45-foot front, is now the largest independent family shoe store north of San Francisco, except for Sacramento. The addition gives the store 1,400 more square feet of floor space, making a total of 4,400 square feet.

New lines of merchandise have been added in all departments, Chapman said. He and his sons, Richard and Irving Jr., operate the store as a partnership. Irving Jr. manages the Novato store.

Active, 20-30 Clubs In Merger

Two young men's service clubs, Active International and 20-30 International, have merged to form Active 20-30 International according to Don Miller, president of the 20-30 Club in San Rafael.

The two organizations will retain present officers and administrative structures until next July, when members will meet in a joint convention in Tucson, Ariz., Miller said.

More than 400 active 20-30 clubs in the United States, Canada, Central and South America will be included in the merger, Miller said.

Headquarters of the new international group will be in Sacramento.

Kennedy Has Us Confused About What He Is Planning

We've been listening carefully to the campaign speeches, and we have to admit we are confused. Sen. John F. Kennedy has our head in a whirl.

On Labor Day this year in Detroit he complained bitterly about the lack of economic growth in the nation. "With an average rate of growth in this country," he declared, "every working man in the last eight years would have received $7,000 more than he has received . . ."

This intrigued us. We'd just as soon have an extra $7,000 in our jeans and if we had been beat out of it, we wanted to know. So we perused his speech further.

He didn't say just how he arrived at this figure or what "an average rate of growth" is. But he did say that in the first six years of the Eisenhower administration U. S. growth was only half of the last six years of the Truman administration. What he didn't say was that the Truman years' growth was skyrocketed by inflation and the cost of producing materials of destruction for the Korean War, not for civilian consumption.

We wondered how much money Kennedy really was talking about. There are about 67 million people employed. If each got an extra $7,000 Kennedy was talking about 469 billion dollars. That's enough to pay off the national debt and have 180 billion left over.

It would mean an increase in money supply of 58 billion 625 million dollars a year. That's enough to pay the bill for our current national defense and foreign aid budgets put together.

We don't think Kennedy seriously believes this amount of money would have been available under his or any other administration—particularly if the Korean War had continued.

After Labor Day, Kennedy switched his approach. Instead of there not being enough money in every pay envelope, there is too much. We're living too easy. We're living too soft. In his whistle-stop tour of California's Central Valley he told audience after audience that "I don't promise you an easy life . . . I will call upon you to make sacrifices . . ."

Sacrifices? What kind of sacrifices? Our salaries? Our savings? Our muscles? Our lives?

To our knowledge he has never answered these questions.

Is Kennedy proposing a wartime economy to regain the $7,000 per worker he says we've lost? After all, every Democratic President of this century has led us into war.

Or do we have too much money and are soft and need to sacrifice?

As we said at the beginning, we're confused.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

ANGLER CATCHES WALLET

Few fishermen ever land anything but fish. But one angler made a catch at Seneca Lake, N. Y., that will not often be duplicated.

While waiting patiently for a bite, he suddenly noticed an interesting object floating by. He rowed his little boat near enough to pick it out of the water.

It turned out to be a wallet containing $114. An investigation turned up the owner who had lost it several hours earlier.

Many a valuable lesson can be learned from the art of fishing. Read the Gospels and note how Christ not only selected fishermen to be His closest associates but repeatedly pointed out how as "fishers of men" they could put such natural qualities as confidence, hope, patience and devoted persistence to supernatural use.

You may never fish a wallet out of the water, but you can be a "fisher of men" by bringing God to man and man to God."

"'Come follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men.' And at once they left the nets and followed Him."

Campaign Drinks Prove Nothing (Maybe Hangovers Will Decide)

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—There was a squib in one of the newspapers here imparting the glad tidings that a local barkeep had invented two new cocktails named after the presidential candidates.

Bartenders are forever doing things like this, mixing up alcohol with current events.

A few years ago, there was hardly a saloon in America that didn't serve an "atomic cocktail." Most of these drinks were subsequently banned because of the heavy fallout. But the custom of naming drinks after people and places in the news has continued unabated.

Typically, one of these drinks will consist of a hooker of Mead, a jigger of bay rum, a dash of watermelon juice and two ounces of blasting powder. Shake well and garnish with eucalyptus leaves. Keep away from open flames.

I long have had a theory that nobody actually ever orders one of these drinks and that if someone did order one, the bartender would pretend to be out of watermelon juice. So when I saw this item about the presidential cocktails, I decided to investigate.

To assist me in the experiment, I enlisted the services of a friend of mine, an unfrocked alchemist whom I could trust to render an impartial judgment. For purposes of this narrative, I shall call him "Dr. Zhivago."

At the appointed hour, we repaired to the bistro in question and, at Dr. Zhivago's suggestion, seated ourselves at a table overlooking an unescorted brunette. But first, I took the precaution of notifying my wife that I might be working late at the laboratory.

In accordance with a prearranged procedure, Dr. Zhivago ordered a "Kennedy bandwagon" and I ordered a "Nixon snowball." The waiter, who seemed to have some hearing difficulty, asked us to repeat the order. Then he disappeared. I thought I caught a glimpse of him whispering to the manager.

EVENTUALLY, the waiter returned with a tray, holding it, I noted, at arm's length. Dr. Zhivago and I lifted the test tubes to our quivering lips and took a tentative sip. Observing that his eyes were rolling rather more than usual, I asked him how his formula tasted.

"A little too much blasting powder," he replied.

We completed this stage of the experiment and beckoned to the waiter, who had been watching us from behind a potted palm. This time I ordered a "Kennedy bandwagon" and Dr. Zhivago switched to a "Nixon snowball."

WHEN ALL the evidence was in, we cast our ballots. It was a tie. Dr. Zhivago favored the Kenendy concoction while I leaned toward the Nixon nostrum.

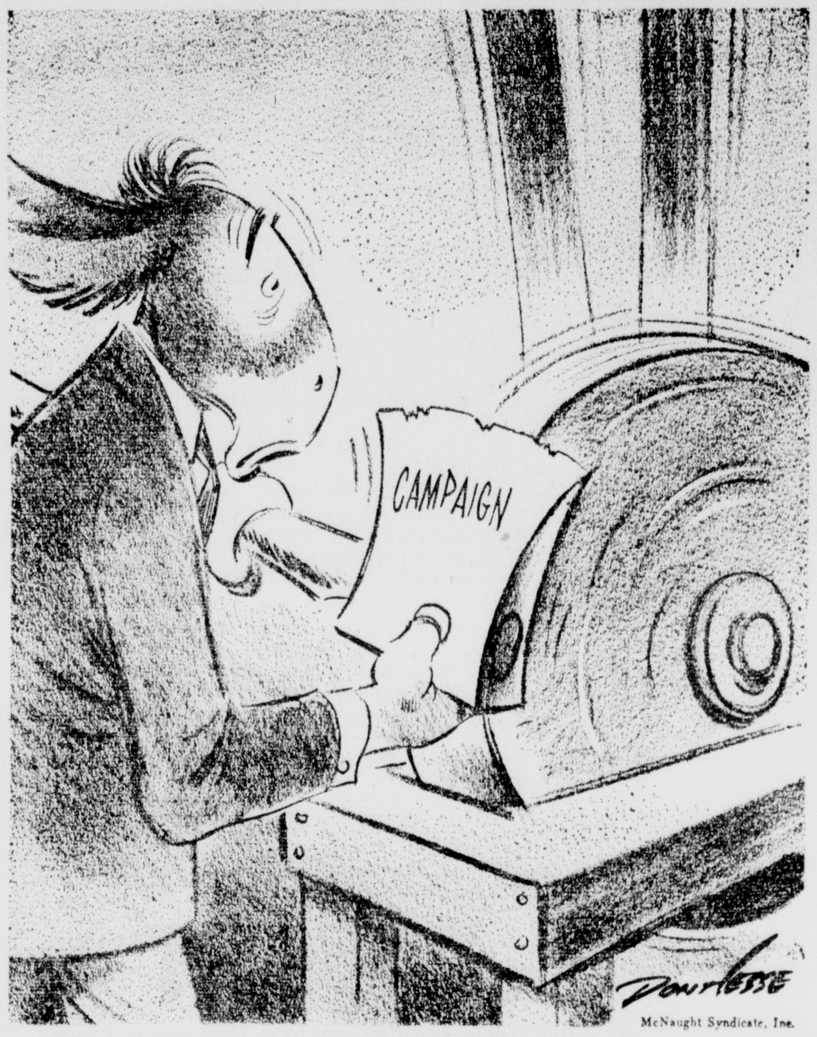

Dr. Zhivago, a bachelor, proposed that we invite the aforementioned brunette to join us for a tie-breaking round, but I demurred. After all, I have but one liver to devote to political science.

Sanitary Taxes Down, Not Up

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As the member of the board of Almonte Sanitary District who has had primary responsibility for managing the financial affairs of the district, I wish to correct misinformation in a letter sent to residents of the district on Sept. 13, signed by John G. Marmelstein and Walter E. C. Runro.

The letter stated: "We are concerned in spite of the increased assessed valuation there has been no reduction in the tax rate, but always a constant increase in the budget."

The facts which are available to the public in the official records of the board are as follows:

1. The district first offered sewer service in June, 1953. For operation and maintenance costs and the retirement of sewer revenue bonds the owner of a single-family dwelling paid a sewer service fee of $42 per year and a tax of 40c per $100.00 of assessed valuation.

2. On July 1, 1957 the sewer service was reduced to $33.60 per year.

3. On July 1, 1958 the sewer service fee was further reduced to $30 per year.

4. Effective with the new budget year commencing July 1, 1960, the tax rate was reduced from 40c per $100 to 36c per $100 of assessed valuation.

5. The operating budgets of the district have, indeed, increased. The increases reflect the growth of the district (from 230 homes when sewer service was first rendered to 360 today), increases in the cost of goods and services and two major factors — one, an increase in the cost of cleaning and repairing sewers and two, increased payments to the City of Mill Valley for disposal of sewage.

An increase in the cost of cleaning sewers reflects the fact that in a district like Almonte with many trees, root infestation is a serious problem and one which is requiring heavier expenses as sewer lines become older and permit greater root penetration.

For the current fiscal year of 1960-61, estimated payments to Mill Valley will represent approximately 50% of our operating and capital outlay expenditures. During the 1958-59 fiscal year payments to Mill Valley accounted for 30% of our expenditures. The increase is due mainly to the fact that charges to Almonte for the operation of Mill Valley's new secondary sewage treatment plant became effective in the budget year 1959-60. Almonte's contract with Mill Valley provides for paying its pro rata share of both operating costs and capital outlay.

This is not intended to be a comprehensive review of the district's finances. I shall be glad to provide additional information to anyone who may wish it.

Monterey Milk Ruling May Spark Serious Criticism Of Price Fixing

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Some time ago, the state Bureau of Milk Control, which fixes prices on retail fluid milk sold throughout California, changed its name to Bureau of Milk Stabilization, as a better description of its function of assuring a firm supply of milk.

On the basis of some recent shenanigans in the Monterey-Santa Cruz area, it might be in order for another name change—perhaps to the state Bureau of Milk Price Manipulation.

AS THE TITLE, Stabilization, is intended to imply, the "justification" of the Milk Control Act is that it will assure an ample supply of milk by preventing unfair competition by big dairies which might force the little fellows out of business. The idea put forth is that a milk price war would result in only a few big dairies remaining in business, who then could set their prices to suit themselves.

Actually, the law has not prevented the little man from being put out of business. As far as assuring a stable supply of milk, it has been more than effective as milk consumption, on a per capita basis, has dropped and the surplus of fluid milk has continued to grow.

HOWEVER, IN THE Monterey-Santa Cruz area, a recent decision by the bureau admittedly was made not to assure a supply of milk, but to regulate competition.

In February of this year, representatives of the big dairies in the area, the Milk Trust, appealed to the Bureau for a price increase, on the basis of higher costs. The higher costs presumably were proved by the dairies as the Bureaus granted an increase of one-half cent a quart.

Sometime later, the Etap Farms Company, which happens to be owned by Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee, who happens to be a Republican and who also happens to be a longtime and outspoken enemy of the Milk Control Act and the Milk Trust, opened a drive-in, or plant-dock, milk sales operation in Monterey County.

Because a cost survey study had never been made for the area, the bureau ordered one before taking action against Pattee. Its survey apparently showed that Pattee actually was able to save enough by selling at his processing plant to sell two cents a quart below the state-fixed minimum.

HOWEVER, OTHER dairies, who had petitioned for the higher price in February, then came to the bureau at an August hearing and said they should be permitted to lower their price one cent a quart in order to meet Pattee's competition.

The bureau approved this reduction, in its own words, "to permit the retail stores to better meet the competition from milk depots." What's more, the Bureau's decision recently was upheld by Monterey county superior court.

IT IS DIFFICULT to understand how a state agency, on the one hand can grant a higher price on the basis that such a price is absolutely necessary in order for the dairies to operate properly and then, on the next hand, to permit them to drop their prices to meet competition.

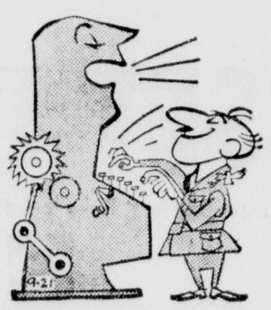

The loser probably will be Pattee, who now will have less differential to work on. The winners will be the people in the area who will get milk one cent a quart cheaper than they would have otherwise.

The decision may also have another effect. One ex-official of a statewide dairy group, after hearing of the decision, said the Monterey-Santa Cruz development may be the one thing that will convince the legislature the whole set-up of state price-fixing should be abolished.

Cove Players All May Dig This Bit To Dance, To Drink, To Baby Sit

We can't resist another quote from the clever pen of Tiburon Peninsula Cove Players president Arny Schultz. This time it is from the invitation to the annual barbecue and election of officers.

As your reporter yawned for the hundredth time, the gentleman sitting in the next seat opined a hope that the meeting would be over so that he could get back to the Oakland Naval Hospital by 8 a.m.

Inquiry revealed that he had snuck out after the evening check so that he could attend the meeting and had to drive back before the early morning bed-check.

And he wasn't leaving until the session was adjourned . . . which it was, at 1 a.m.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

This Is The Nixon Case As He Expounds It In His Speeches

WITH NIXON CAMPAIGN PARTY—Every day in every way, at every speech at every stop, Vice President Nixon is acting to counter the Kennedy strategy at its central point.

The Democratic nominee is seeking to tie the mantle of the Republican party so tightly around Nixon that it will turn into a noose.

HE APPEALS frankly for Democratic votes on the ground that the Democratic platform does not reflect the center of Democratic policy or the center of American political thinking.

He refuses to let the senator out-promise him on goals, but argues that he is proposing better means to achieve these goals.

He contends that 180,000,000 Americans will be better off if the government seeks liberal objectives, including economic growth, by conservative methods. He disputes the Kennedy thesis that the United States is second to the Soviets in military strength or in outer space or in science and education, and declares that he will never let the dollar sign stand in the way of remaining first.

THEN NIXON goes to the heart of his appeal. He asks his audiences to vote, not as Republicans or Democrats, but as Americans, and to render their verdict "on that type of leadership that gives the best chance to keep the peace without surrender and extend freedom throughout the world."

The Vice President develops all of these themes, sometimes briefly, often at greater length, in nearly all of his speeches.

TO THE DEMOCRATS—"I present the case for our ticket not in partisan terms. I urge you to answer this question: Which of the candidates and which of the platforms are closer to your views—ours or theirs? Their platform has forfeited their right to ask Democrats in this country to vote for them."

ON NATIONAL GOALS — "Let us all recognize right at the outset," says Nixon, "whether we are Democrats or Republicans or independents, we all want a better life for our children than we've had for ourselves in this country. We want better jobs and better schools and better health and better housing and progress."

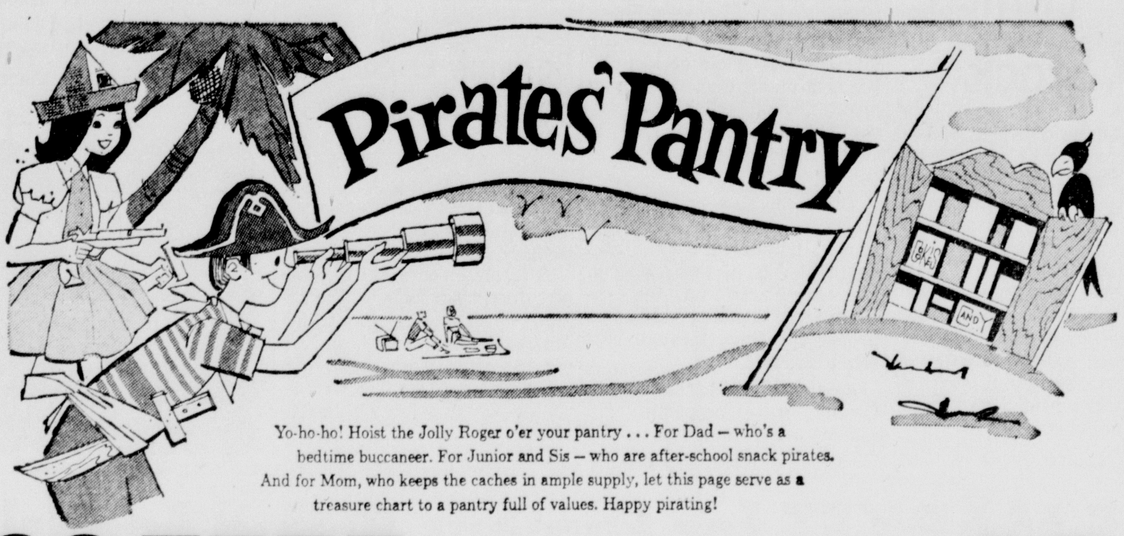

ON ACHIEVING THESE GOALS — "The difference is in methods. We say we have proved we know the way by the greatest progress and by producing the greatest prosperity that Americans have ever enjoyed under the leadership of Dwight Eisenhower. We say that, as far as our opponents are concerned, they seek to go back to the device of turning to the Federal government as the primary source of progress of the people."

ON THE RECESS CONGRESS—"My friends," Nixon goes on, "I am going to tell you why the leadership in the last session failed. It wasn't because the leadership changed or lost its ability. It was because that leadership had lost touch with the people of this country. It wasn't just the President was against their program. The people were against their program. I submit that they are out of step with the great number of Democrats, millions of them, in this country."

NIXON'S MAJOR ISSUE—"The major issue, the major concern of Americans as they go to the polls in November, must be which of the two candidates, which of the four candidates for President and Vice-President, which of the two of these four, offer to Americans and the free world the type of leadership that can best be trusted to promote peace and freedom everywhere."

PERSONAL EXPERIENCE Nixon tells his rallies: "I, of course, would not be so presumptuous as to compare my qualifications with those of my opponent. That is for you to do."

He glowingly cites the record of his running mate, Cabot Lodge, at the U. N., and invariably gets big applause when he does so. This is the Nixon case as Nixon expounds it.

NEW VERSION OF DART TRUCK

This 1961 Dart half-ton pick-up soon to be displayed by Dodge dealers features a 140-horsepower, six-cylinder engine and will be available in wheelbases of 114 and 122 inches. It is one of a new series of trucks to be introduced by the Dodge Division of Chrysler Motors which will range from the model shown above to a two-and-one-half-ton heavy tractor.

Deeds Of Trust Traded Like Shares Or Stock

Central market facilities for real estate loans, comparable to those available for security issues offered by the American and New York Stock Exchanges were described by David L. Amos of the American Mortgage Exchange, San Francisco, at a breakfast meeting of the Marin County Real Estate Board at King Cotton yesterday.

The firm maintains a giant listing board where investors may examine offerings of first and second deeds of trust and bid on them in much the same manner as stock traders do.

The American Mortgage Exchange was organized in 1954. It has had the effect of stabilizing the mortgage market, Amos said. While discount rates are dependent upon property appraisals, credit ratings, interest rate, yield and length of term, prices paid have become fairly uniform.

Good second deeds of trust, for example, are generally regarded as those which mature within five years, earn eight per cent interest and give the investor a net yield of 15 to 20 per cent on his money. Such an offering would probably be discounted 20 per cent. A five per cent brokerage commission is paid by the seller.

The firm also handles new placement loans on a commission of 10 per cent, usually paid by the buyer of the property. Listings placed on the exchange are handled similar to property listings through real estate brokers.

Amos stated that in Marin County, more properties are sold with high down payments than in San Francisco and on the Peninsula. This would tend to make Marin deeds of trust more attractive to buyers.

Baroque Orchestra Being Organized

Formation of a baroque orchestra, to specialize in the music of the 17th and 18th centuries, has been announced by the San Rafael Recreation Department.

A series of concerts is planned, featuring some of the original instruments for which the music was scored, including the viola d'amore, harpsichord and recorder, as well as contemparary string instruments.

Director of the group will be Hugo Rinaldi, director of music in San Rafael schools. Musicians interested in joining the ensemble may call the recreation department at the city hall.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

What Happened To Those Who Played Key Roles At Marinship?

Suddenly, after 15 years, I am nostalgic about Marinship.

At least twice a month I pass by the scene of Marin County's great wartime industry, now for some of us a ghostyard of memories from 1942 to 1945. And it has come to me recently that many of the key men who gave their energy to turn out scores of ships during those years are no longer to be found in Marin byways.

Where did they go? What are they doing now? Here are a few who seem to have vanished without a trace:

Carl W. Allison, Don S. Lind, George K. Wahlgren, Forrest H. Hall, Vincent J. McKew, Waldo C. Cox, Ralph L. Hyet, Creden Manwaring, Ralph J. Hoffman, Russell D. Koons, Carl H. Nillson, Walter Johnson, Gerald Binnings, Charley Root, Warren G. May, Murray Clemes, Harry and Larry Taylor, W. Dean Eastman, Charles E. O'Connor, Victor Wells, Kenneth N. Firth, Sidney J. Spearin, Gerald S. Townsend, John W. Gibson, R. Gordon Wagenet, Fred M. Hoblit and Ed C. Johnson.

Anybody know? We'd like to hear about them.

RECENT MENTION in this column about exhaust sparks from field equipment causing brush and hay fires has led to some additional information supplied by Mel Freeman, whose firm, Pedley-Knowles and Co. of San Francisco, is a distributor for the Gill spark arrester.

Particles of hot carbon conducted through exhaust systems, he says, must be completely trapped before there is any assurance of safety. The Gill device which is not a muffler but a separate installation near the end of the tail pipe to do this through centrifugal action.

The point is, however, that clear-cut state and local legislation is lagging Standards for auxiliary devices set up by the U. S. Forest Service after considerable research might well be used to model such legislation. Until then, voluntary installations by utility companies, construction firms and others operating in hazardous areas—of which they are many in Marin—are our only hope of reducing the millions of dollars damage every year caused from exhaust pipes.

THE SAN FRANCISCO chapter of Women in Construction is looking for new members in Marin County with the view of eventually having a separate chapter on this side of the bay. The San Francisco group includes representation by firms from San Jose to Santa Rosa.

The organization wants members engaged as employees and employers in every field of the construction industry, including architects, engineers, general and mechanical contractors, subcontractors, material suppliers and construction news publications.

Meetings are once a month. Latest one was held at the Alta Mira Hotel. Interested parties in Marin may communicate with Evelyn Hertzberg, 36 Dorset Lane, Mill Valley.

NEW REAL ESTATE LOANS recorded in the county during August totaled some 10 million dollars, of which about 43.5 per cent was handled by savings and loan associations, according to figures compiled by the Marin division of California Pacific Title Co.

Marin's four firms got their usual healthy share of the savings and loan business — more than 64 per cent.

Burned-Out Firms Open At New Site

Rafael Floorcovering, Rafael Appliance Co. and Trend Draperies, three of the business firms which were burned to the ground in the Rice Building fire in San Rafael Aug. 26, have relocated in temporary headquarters in a warehouse building at 97 Jordan Street, San Rafael.

Complete samplings of carpet, linoleum and tiles are being shown at this location by Rafael Floorcovering.

Rafael Appliance Co. has received three freightcar loads of electric appliances and is continuing its factory authorized service from this location.

Clyde Jones, owner of Rafael Floorcovering, said the firms expect to be back on Francisco Boulevard in a new building within the next few months.

Tamalpais High Opens Saturday Rec Classes

Registration for Tamalpais High School's Saturday morning instructional recreation program will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday in the girls' gymnasium.

Classes start Oct. 1 and continue each Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon for six weeks. They include swimming in all ability levels, diving, trampoline, touch football and tennis. The program is for boys and girls from eight through 14, and there will be a charge.

MMWD Contracts For Water Line

The Marin Municipal Water District has awarded a contract on a low bid of $24,024.95 to the MGM Construction Co. of Concord, Contra Costa County, for installation of 2,200 feet of water pipeline.

The section of line will be part of the district's North Marin line, and will extend from Las Gallinas Avenue to the district's Lucas Valley water tank.

Board Vetoes Gas Station At Kentfield

A proposal to construct a service station at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Stetson Avenue, Kentfield, was turned down yesterday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The proposal, as made by Mohawk Petroleum Corp., called for the station to be located just a few hundred feet south of the Drake-College Avenue intersection. Opponents and the county planning commission declared the station would add to congestion in an already congested area.

Emil Adams, representing the oil company, said it would be set back 30 feet from the roadway and in fact would not further congest traffic. Two real estate men, supporting the project, said it would actually take cars off the street through offering additional parking space.

But Supervisor William Fusselman, in whose district the area is located, declared the "terrible situation" which exists there now would be further complicated. He moved the application for a use permit be denied. Denial was unanimous.

In other planning business yesterday the supervisors:

1. Set Oct. 11 at 2 p.m. as time for a hearing on a change in zoning classification for Bolinas Mesa.
2. Approved adjustments for William T. Gripp in Bolinas, Tracy Van Voorhees in Kent Woodlands, Cloyce and Effie Gault in Kentfield, Wilhelmina Warner in Kentfield, Laurence and Ella Johnson on Paradise Drive, L. B. Cooper in Lomita Park, Lucile H. Cordrey in Stinson Beach, Dean Allen in Inverness and James G. Hutton in Loma Verde.
3. Denied adjustments to Dr. and Mrs. Robert F. Palmer in Strawberry Manor and Frank Hill in Bayside Acres.
4. Approved a use permit for Emma Tose to build professional offices for seven doctors opposite Ross General Hospital in Kentfield.
5. Approved a use permit for Evangelical Lutheran Church to establish a church, Sunday school and related activities on a portion of the Smith Ranch on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Manor, about a third of a mile west of Oak Manor Drive.
6. Approved exceptions to the tentative maps of Southridge Subdivision, Tiburon; Alamea Palisades, Point Reyes; Bahia Vista Units 1 and 2, Point San Pedro.
7. Approved the final map of 20-lot Kent Woodlands Unit 14.

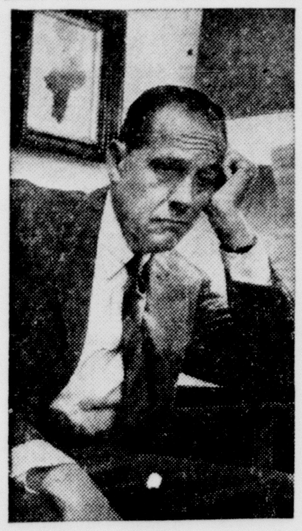

Belveron Picks Nominating Unit

Belveron Properties Assn. has picked a nominating committee for selection of next year's officers.

Committee members are William B. Everest, Harold F. Howard, Adolph Edwards, Mrs. D. D. Dwyer and Mrs. Carl Cales, announced Allen A. Olson, president.

Association members decided to schedule a work day soon to clean areas adjacent to the Tiburon Boulevard and Trestle Glen entrance ways.

Why "Good-Time" Charlie Suffers Uneasy Bladder

Unwise eating or drinking may be a source of mild, but annoying bladder irritations—making you feel restless, tense, and uncomfortable. And if restless nights, with nagging backache, headache or muscular aches and pains due to over-exertion, strain or emotional upset, are adding to your misery—don't wait—try Doan's Pills.

Doan's Pills act 3 ways for speedy relief. 1—They have a soothing effect on bladder irritations. 2—A fast pain-relieving action on nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 3—A wonderfully mild diuretic action thru the kidneys, tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes. So, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. New, large, economy size saves money. Get Doan's Pills today!

WHERE THEY MEET — This is a view of the United Nations General Assembly hall, where the regular assembly opened yesterday. Seating facilities were expanded this session because of addition of new independent nations in Africa, plus Ceylon in Asia. This view looks toward rostrum from hallway between spectators' galleries. A DIFFERENT SCENE—It was a far different scene today as the United Nations General Assembly went into session and the U.N. Assembly Hall, so empty at left, became crowded with representatives of nations throughout the world including some of the world's most famous people. (AP Wirephoto)

Simpson To Ask State Education Revamping

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's education chief plans to submit "a far-ranging program of reform and improvement" for action by the 1961 legislature.

Roy E. Simpson, superintendent of public instruction, disclosed his plans yesterday after Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced he would submit some suggestions of his own.

Simpson welcomed Brown's interest, and, like Brown, did not endorse the still preliminary findings of the Citizens Advisory Commission on Education, which has been investigating the school system for two years.

He said some of his proposals may differ with those of the commission, but that it already supports some of them. All must get Board of Education approval before going to the legislature.

The commission, Simpson said, has made important contributions, "except for some mudslinging by a few extremists."

It recently urged mandatory statewide testing of public school pupils, devotion of more time to basic skills in elementary grades, a longer school day if necessary and changes in textbook adoption.

A minority report called for drastic action to correct "shameful and horrifying" educational practices and blamed Simpson's Department of Education for "disregard of academic achievement."

Simpson, however, said during the last two years state schools "have made great improvements, reflected in rising enrollments in science, mathematics, foreign languages and other academic subjects."

"Moreover," he added, "vocational education has been strengthened, and standards generally raised."

Brothers Must Stand Trial In Stabbing Case

Two Petaluma brothers were ordered held for superior court trial by Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin County Municipal Court Monday.

Robert M. Collins, 18, and John H. Collins, 21, are charged with stabbing Arthur F. Porter, 20, of 744 Bradley Avenue, Novato, with a broken beer bottle in a drivein restaurant brawl in Novato Sept. 13.

On Floor Of U.N. Assembly Halls, Big And Little Nations Are Equal

By BEN BASSETT

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Come take a look at the Assembly Hall of the United Nations, the place where Eisenhower and Khrushchev, Nasser and Nehru are to speak, along with 90 other representatives of the world's peoples.

The assembly meets every fall in a building beside New York's traffic-busy East River.

The assembly hall is an almost egg-shaped room, 380 feet long and 160 wide. Here every nation, large or small, has exactly 10 seats. There are 13 rows of thin, curving tables. In uniform sections behind these tables sit five delegates, in beige chairs with arms. Directly behind them are five seats in blue for alternates and aides.

The delegations are arranged in a semicircle. Each of the 13 rows is divided into four to nine sections, where delegations sit side by side.

The seating is determined by lot.

The floor, carpeted in deep green velvet, slopes toward the front, much as in a theater, so that all have an unobstructed view of the 12-foot model of the U.N. seal on the front wall. Just beneath the seal, on a three-man dais finished in green and black marble, sits the assembly president, newly elected each year. To his right sits Dag Hammarskjold, the secretary-general. Andrew Cordier, executive assistant, flanks the assembly president on the other side.

A few steps below these three is the rostrum, the place where all the speeches are made.

The delegations let the presiding officer know in advance that they have speeches to make. When the turn comes, the president will say, as an example: "I call upon the honorable representative of Poland."

The delegate walks down the aisle, nods to the president and promptly turns his back on him to stand at the rostrum.

It happens that the delegate from Poland is speaking English. For those who don't understand English, the words are translated simultaneously by interpreters working in glass-front booths. The delegates wear earphones and take their choice of French, Russian, Spanish or Chinese.

On the floor the delegates sit listening, taking notes or doodling. They run the gamut, from Scandinavian blonds to African blacks. Almost all are men, and their average age seems nearer 40 than 60. They come from such places as Nepal and Libya, but most wear American-cut suits in gray, brown, black or an occasional blue.

Each country, be it one with two million population or India with half a billion, gets its chance to make a preliminary policy speech outlining its views on what's wrong and right with the world.

Most of the big leaders will return home after one or two appearances, leaving subordinates to take over their interests.

By mid-December, all will be talked out, the last committee reports will be in, the budget for the next year arranged, and the assembly will adjourn.

FEP ANNIVERSARY

Brown Says State's Only Begun Fight On Bigotry

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The state has only begun the fight against discrimination, Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today on the first anniversary of the Fair Employment Practices Act.

"I am overjoyed that FEP, born in struggle and hope, has progressed so very well these short 12 months," the governor said in a speech prepared for an anniversary luncheon.

"We have moved from the forefront of publicity and attention into the realm of quiet, constant work, and, there, in the day-to-day operation of this activity, the ultimate battle will be won or lost.

"We will meet and defeat the obstacles which beset our people in this particular field, and we will move forward. We will tackle housing and accommodations and every other remnant of intolerance and bigotry."

Brown noted that establishment of a Fair Employment Practices Commission was his No. 1 legislative pledge when he took office last year, and thanked those who helped push it through and who have helped develop its "effective machinery."

By way of illustrating its activities, the commission issued its monthly report to the governor today, noting that in August it handled a record 56 cases.

That brought to 370 the total number of cases handled in the FEPC's first 11 months, 185 of which have been closed.

Discrimination was found and remedied in 49 cases, in 105 there was either no finding of discrimination or insufficient evidence of it, and in 31 the commission either lacked jurisdiction or the complaint was dropped.

Physical Fitness Program Opens

The San Rafael Recreation Department will begin its third annual physical fitness program Saturday at San Rafael High School for all children in the San Rafael School District aged 7-12.

The 25-week program will include, for the boys, football, basketball, tumbling and trampoline, baseball, track, swimming and diving; for the girls, volleyball, modern dance, basketball, tumbling, softball, and trampoline.

Physical education personnel from the high school will conduct the activities.

Youngsters age 11 and 12 may register from 9 to 10 a.m.; age 9 and 10 from 10 to 11 a.m. and age 7 and 8 from 11 to noon.

Nominees Appear In TV Discussion

Rep. Clement W. Miller, Corte Madera Democrat, and Fred G. Dupuis, Tiburon Republican, will appear on a panel on television station KQED at 9:30 p.m. today in the San Francisco League of Women Voters series, "Congressional Candidates and Issues."

Also on the panel will be Roger Boas, John Ward and Mrs. Paul Holmer. Local questions will be covered by Mrs. Leland Wiese of the Mill Valley League of Women Voters.

Lawyers Clash Over 'Stilt House' Issue In Belvedere

The scene was a meeting of the Belvedere City Council, which adjourned the hearing until Oct. 10 to hear more.

The fireworks started when Morse Erskine, attorney for Belvedere Properties Inc., introduced as evidence the subdivision engineering report and revised map. City Atty. William H. MacKay objected. He said he would allow its being filed as evidence but "it is contrary to our stipulation."

The city council had previously agreed to a stipulation drawn up by Erskine and MacKay which outlined the three issues to be heard, and set forth that the Belvedere Planning Commission had taken no action on the map.

The issues are:

1. Is the city ordinance prohibiting development of inundated lands applicable to this subdivision?

2. Is it lawful and enforceable?

3. Can an exception under the ordinance be allowed under the prohibition of the section?

Erskine had presented three exhibits when MacKay objected to the engineering report as not relevant.

Erskine argued that the city council "has a right to know what the planning commission voted on as illegal . . . The commission rejected something on grounds it was illegal." MacKay countered, "My understanding was that the only issue before this council is whether that subdivision ordinance section prevents development of this land while it is under water."

Mayor Robert R. Watkins then suggested adjourning the hearing so MacKay could review the material which the developers would present. MacKay took him up on this with, "I would like to confer with Mr. Erskine as he has allowed himself to be misled as to the scope of the issues to be heard. He has a reputation for integrity and is an honest man, but he has been euchered into a strange position."

The proceedings were taken down in toto by a court reporter — employed by Belvedere Properties, Inc., because "we are contemplating going to court if our appeal is turned down," Erskine explained.

In an adjourned meeting preceding the hearing, the city council voted to call for bids on the San Rafael Avenue sewer force main.

BABY RATTLER

Pupil's Nature Exhibit Stirs Up His Classroom

An 11-year-old sixth grader at Coleman School picked up a baby snake along Elm Avenue in San Rafael yesterday morning, stuck it in a paper bag, and took it to school to show his friends.

Teacher Bernard Bloom took one peak at the diamond-shaped head, told the youngsters not to open the bag, and called the custodian. The custidian killed the reptile, about five inches long, which turned out to be a baby rattlesnake. Principal Webster Smith said the boy who picked up the snake is so embarrassed he will remain unidentified.

San Rafael Police Sgt. Louis Foster said this is the first time he can recall that a rattlesnake has been found so close to town.

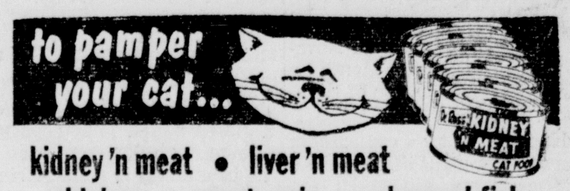

Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa warned residents, especially in the Coleman School area, not to pick up snakes even if they are small. "If there are baby rattlers around, there may be larger rattlesnakes," he pointed out.

Quarter Horse Film Scheduled

"Quarter Horses in Action," a 90-minute color film, will be shown by the Southern Marin Horsemen's Assn. at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Old Mill School in Mill Valley.

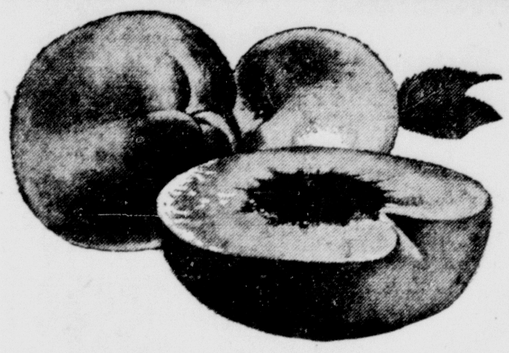

The film, according to Mrs. Joseph Canet, program chairman, concerns the raising and training of the western quarter horse from halter breaking the colt to the precision work of finishing the cutting horse. Interested horsemen are invited to attend and refreshments will be served, she said.

Novato Learns Traffic Study To Start Soon

A traffic survey which ultimately may affect the location of Highway 101 through Novato will be started this month by the California Division of Highways.

Novato city councilmen learned last night that the state traffic survey will begin the last week of September. Cars will be stopped briefly and drivers asked questions on their destination and usual routes at three locations on three different days.

The survey was requested by the city and county planning staff, under city contract, after Novato residents disagreed with traffic figures which resulted in plans for expansion of Highway 101 to eight lanes on its present route through the city's business section.

Still to come from the state is a decision on whether $500 in state funds will be available to match the $500 in city money offered to conduct a 25 per cent house-to-house survey on destination, routes and amount of use of Novato traffic arteries.

Also at last night's meeting, the Novato City Council:

1. Decided to seek from the county an extension to June 30, 1961, of the agreement under which the county public works department serves the city. The 15 to 20 applicants for city public works director are yet to be screened.

2. Turned down a request from the junior chamber of commerce for $500 for its year's projects, including Western Weekend, but promised to consider later individual project fund requests.

3. Heard a request that plantings in the Monte Maria subdivision be watered and tended. Residents have complained of lack of care of the plantings both before and since the city took over the Monte Marin Community Services District. The residents pay a special tax for the landscape project.

4. Ordered City Atty. Clark Palmer Jr. to prepare an ordinance stating that no subdivision building permits will be issued prior to filing of a final map. With that understanding, the council then approved granting of 31 building permits to builder John Novak for St. Francis Heights Unit 2 before filing of the final map—the last such request to be granted, they asserted.

5. Approved zoning changes in the Novato Ranch and Marin Golf and Country Club Estates subdivisions.

6. Set for 8 a.m. Sept. 29 an informal meeting with the Novato Retail Merchants Assn. of the Chamber of Commerce to exchange views on city business license fees.

7. Agreed to aim at a long-term policy of charging a flat fee for building inspection, and formally adopted, in the interim, the county policy of drawing on builders' deposits as needed to cover inspection costs.

8. Agreed to expenditure of $276, as indicated in the budget, for circulation of civil defense information.

Novato Undecided On Police Chief

Three unnamed candidates still are in the running for chief of police of Novato.

City councilmen last night met in closed session for almost an hour to discuss candidates with City Administrator J. Julien Baget. They reported coming to no decision. None of the candidates is from Marin.

No future personnel session has been scheduled this week, Mayor Wayne Womack reported.

Councilmen at the regular meeting after the closed personnel session agreed to negotiate for extension of county policing to at least the end of the year. Sheriff's deputies have been appointed city police under a contract with the county.

Husband Admits Check Passing

Boyd Griffith, 22, pleaded guilty to three counts of passing bad checks before Judge N. Charles Brusatori in Marin County Superior Court Monday.

A conspiracy charge was dismissed on motion of the district attorney. Judge Brusatori set Oct. 10 for sentencing.

Griffith, who gave his address as a San Rafael motel, was accused of passing three bogus $20 checks in Marin County during July. His wife, Sandra Sue Griffith, 21, pleaded guilty last month of passing three bad checks and was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail and three years probation.

Reed Trustees Tell Why Bonds Needed

Next Tuesday's Reed Union School District bond election was neatly wrapped in an attractive gift package and presented to the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club last night by district trustees. A sympathetic audience did not question the necessity for passing the bonds.

Trustee Alfred J. Azevedo discussed the goals of the district, which include stressing an academic education, emphasis on fundamentals, maintaining small classes and selection of qualified teachers.

Trustee Erwin Farley traced the growth of the district. He said that 149 pupils were registered in 1949, and 10 years later this had leaped to 1,159. He praised the constant support of parents, noticing six bond and tax issues previously presented and all passed.

Trustee David R. Ring presented the report of a committee appointed to study long term needs. He revealed that studies predict a school population close to 2,000 by 1965, 2,600 by 1970. This takes into account the opening of a parochial school in the fall of 1962.

Tying the ball around the package was board chairman Richard J. Mac Laury, who explained why it is important for the district to remain with the state aid program. Money, he said, is loaned to districts which have bonded themselves to capacity and still need more facilities.

MacLaury claimed passage of the bond issue will not raise taxes.

If passed, the $525,000 from the bond issue, plus $100,000 from state aid, will be used to construct 14 classrooms, a library and office on the Del Mar site. At first the district plans to use the buildings for kindergarten through sixth grades. Later, when it is possible to enlarge the school to include science and home economic rooms and physical education facilities, it will be converted to a junior high.

On Bar Committee

Leo V. Killion, San Rafael attorney, has been named to a special committee of the California State Bar, formed to study the California arbitration statute. The statute deals with the use of arbitration proceedures in labor disputes.

Hit-Run Car Shoves Vehicle Into Building

A hit-run motorist rammed a parked car at 804 E Street in San Rafael early today, shoving it into the side of the new state employment office building.

The driver then backed into the E Street driveway of the Harry M. Williams Mortuary and smashed twice into a three-inch steel pipe which holds up a driveway chain.

Found abandoned in the driveway was a car registered to Clarence E. Malone, 41, of 1409 Clinton Avenue, San Rafael.

Police Officer Leo Schwab, following directions by witnesses to the accident, found Malone and his wife, Doris, 36, in a telephone booth at the nearby Music Box Bar at 1618 Second Street.

He booked Malone at the county jail on a charge of drunkenness. Police said they will present evidence to the district attorney's office today for possible hit-run and drunken driving complaint.

The parked car, which was struck about 12:30 a.m., belonged to Jack G. Frank of 1450 Second Street. It caused only minor damage to a drain pipe on the employment office.

Dancers To Honor Pair

The Buzzin' Boots Square Dance Club will honor past president Bob Cooper and secretary Marge Van Couwenberghe during the coffee break at the Friday night dance at Star Hall in San Anselmo.

The two were elected vice president and delegate of the Northern California Square Dance Assn., respectively.

ANY TRADE-IN?

San Geronimo Assn. In Market For A New Flag

San Geronimo Valley Assn. wants to trade in its old 48-star flag for a newer model with 50 stars.

The group met last night at Lagunitas School and decided that a new, up-to-date flag should go with the new flagpole which the association is donating to the community to erect at the school bus stop in the center of Forest Knolls.

"Does anyone want a large 48-star flag for a trade-in?" secretary Georgette Vilas asked today.

John A. Bevans, chairman of the cleanup committee, reported that school bus shelter and improvements at Forest Knolls are completed, through donations in money and work by association members and Forest Knolls businessmen. Larry Moultin, Les Stone (president of the association) and Martin Storman contributed labor on the shelter.

Power Failure Darkens Prison

San Quentin Prison was darkened by a power failure for a short time last night.

All lights in the prison went out at 9:34 p.m., but those in the cell blocks were restored within five minutes. By 9:45 p.m., all lights were operating on emergency generators except perimeter lights which remained dark through the night.

B. L. Russell, Jr., supervisor of instruction at the prison laid the blackout to a switch failure, and said a check of the cell blocks showed nothing amiss.

SUPERVISORS ROUNDUP

County Will Train Tam District Seniors

A group of seniors from Tamalpais Union High School District will receive on-the-job training this year as part-time employees of Marin County.

The county board of supervisors yesterday authorized Administrator D. A. Jensen to employ the students at 85 cents per hour. They will ordinarily work from 3 to 5 p.m. daily, receiving class credit for the program. If they become properly trained and are employed on an overtime basis, they will be paid $1.07 per hour.

Jensen said about seven stenographic students are available this month to start the program, and more may be added.

Such a program had been in effect up to two years ago when the high school district dropped it for financial reasons.

The students will receive credit from the personnel commission for on-the-job training time as qualifying experience for future civil service examinations they may wish to take.

The supervisors also:

1. Agreed to meet Oct. 19 at 8 p.m. in the courthouse with city councils to discuss the question of county contributions for city streets.

2. Authorized Chairman Walter R. Castro to sign a letter to the director of the California Disaster Office requesting that some of the quick coupling aluminum pipe which has been assigned throughout the state for temporary emergency use be allocated to Marin County for fighting brush fires.

3. Heard Administrator Jensen report that a civil defense practice alert will be held Sept. 30 to check radiological detection devices scattered throughout the county.

4. Heard an exchange between Supervisor William D. Fusselman and Probation Officer Walter Busher concerning a 16-year-old boy who was taken to juvenile hall and whose parents reportedly were not notified. Fusselman said the parents didn't know for a long time where the boy was. Busher said he would be glad to give the supervisors a confidential report on the reasons why the boy was held and not released to his parents. The youth had first been jailed when he claimed he was 21, then admitted he was 16 and was sent to the hall, the supervisors were told.

5. Were invited to attend a committee meeting of the Eel River Flood Control and Water Conservation Assn. in Eureka Sept. 23. Supervisor Vera L. Schultz or James Marshall will attend.

6. Approved erection of a United Crusade progress board on the courthouse lawn.

7. Appointed Supervisor William Gnoss to the executive board of the Redwood Empire Assn.

8. Established specifications for new job classifications for appraiser II, fire warden-mechanic, public health interviewer and veteran service assistant II.

9. Approved promotion of Mrs. Bette McDonald from principal clerk to a newly created job as administrative assistant in the medical department.

10. Authorized establishment by the county board of education of a new high school at San Quentin Prison.

11. Received a request from Mrs. Lee Sutherland of San Rafael that the newly constructed center strip on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Greenbrae be planted for beauty and to protect drivers from oncoming car lights. Supervisor Fusselman reported the strip was equipped with water pipes and room was left for top soil if it is to be planted, but no decision has yet been made.

12. Appointed Joseph W. Ross, accountant, auditor's office, $458 per month, replacing L. Miller; Yee Nguoy Dauck, kitchen helper, $220, Katie Davis and Marian Hancock, practical nurses, $255, county hospital and farm, and Edwin E. Bird, deputy probation officer, $483, all to fill vacancies.

13. Suggested that the civic center committee confer with top officials of Pacific Telephone and Pacific Gas and Electric companies on the matter of power lines at the civic center and along San Pedro Road fronting the center. The utility companies have said they felt the additional cost of underground installations should be borne by the county.

14. Referred to the county boundary commission a proposal for formation of a county services area for street lighting at Paradise Cay.

15. Approved sale of $100,000 in Dixie School District bonds and $200,000 in San Rafael High School District bonds to First Western Bank, low interest rate bidder in both cases.

16. Designated the intersection of North San Pedro Road and Merrydale Road a stop intersection so that northbound traffic will stop before entering or crossing North San Pedro from Merrydale.

17. Authorized keeping the county dump open Monday through Thursdays from 12:30 to 4:30 in addition to Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, because of increased demand.

18. Received a report from Chief Probation Officer Busher that work by the public works department on the juvenile hall building has put the building "in the best condition it ever enjoyed."

19. Approved an agreement between Guide Dogs for the Blind and San Rafael Meadows Sewer Maintenance District to connect the Guide Dogs installation to the district sewer facilities.

20. Received a letter from the Junior Museum of Marin board asking for a discussion on the possibility of the county assuming responsibility for operation of the museum as a part of county government. The supervisors said the board members should be invited to come in and talk about it.

Strings Workshop Slates Practice

The Workshop for Strings, sponsored by the Symphony Guild of Marin and directed by Hugo Rinaldi, will begin rehearsals Friday from 4 to 5 p.m. at San Rafael High School.

Grammar school students from the fifth through eighth grades with two years playing experience are eligible to join.

Mrs. Loren L. Jay of 88 Center Avenue, Sausalito, and Mrs. Walter M. Baird of 1644 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, are in charge of information.

UPI Learns Stengel Will Retire

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Casey Stengel will retire shortly after the World Series and Ralph Houk will succeed him as manager of the New York Yankees, United Press International has learned on the best possible authority.

Stengel made up his mind to quit at the end of this season, even before it started, and has spoken about it to this writer, off-handedly now and then during the past six weeks.

Casey's retirement has always been a sore point with him—and it is understandable for a man of 70 who has been in baseball 50 years—but he has faced up to the fact that it is far better to leave as a winner rather than a loser.

"I don't blame them for asking me all these questions about my leaving," he said to this writer before last night's game with Washington.

"They've got a right to ask," he went on. "But I still feel it's my own business and I told 'em all I'd give 'em my answer in October. That's soon enough, isn't it?"

Only a few weeks back, however, I knew Stengel had decided to quit and told him so. He didn't deny it. Instead he said:

"Yeah, but it's my doing, not theirs."

By that he meant he's the one who is calling the shot—not the Yankees' front office.

"Hell, I've had five or six offers since I've been here," he said. He wasn't lying either.

Several clubs have inquired, discreetly of course, whether he would be interested in managing them during the past three years, but Casey's answer has always been, "No, thanks."

"Why don't you fool 'em all and come back here next year?" I said to him on the bench last night.

"I just might," he muttered.

But he was kidding, and he knew I knew he was.

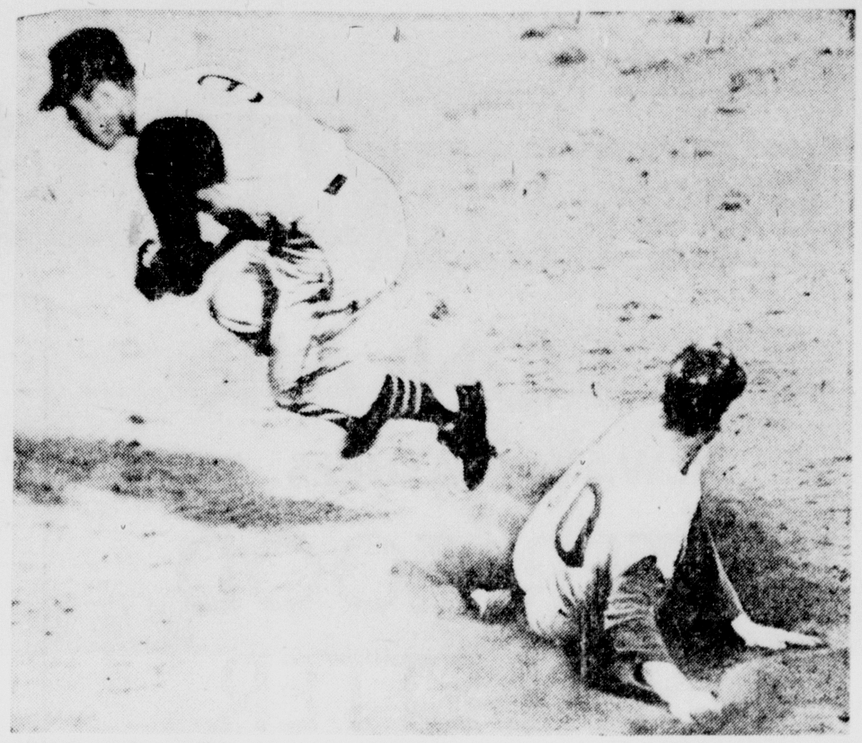

There is no question, however, that he can get a job practically anywhere in baseball. But when he's through with the Yankees, he'll be through, period.

Some speculation has arisen that he might be succeeded by either Al Lopez or Paul Richards.

But that won't happen. Owner Bill Veeck of the Chicago White Sox happens to like Lopez and will bet all the oranges in Florida that he will be back managing Chicago next year. That's a safe bet. Lopez may manage the Yankees one day, but it won't be in 1961.

As for Richards, he is about to sign a new three-year contract with the Baltimore Orioles, so that leaves him out, too.

The Yankees' front office has decided who will be Stengel's successor and his name is Houk, a man who proved his capabilities with Denver in the Yankee farm system, a man liked and respected by the Yankee players, and a man with quite a bit on the ball.

CONNOLLY

The wiser heads and the cooler brows seem to believe there still is a chance the San Francisco Giants might get up off the floor and, by wholesale trading, assemble a truly major league club, get a REAL MAJOR LEAGUE MANAGER, before the 1961 season rolls around.

What makes it tough is owner Horace Stoneham, who seems to be carrying a tremendous burden trying to satisfy the fans, pampering his prima donna players, coddling politicians who take credit for big league baseball coming to S.F., and fondling a public relations set-up without any authority — one whose hands are tied.

Stoneham gets blamed for the trades, the players used, the managerial mistakes, the stone age tactics of everyone connected with the outfit.

Stoneham cannot conscientiously close his eyes on something he knows is all wet to get something else he desires and can only acquire by "making deals with other club owners."

For that reason Stoneham has to speak up but FAST. He has to hire a manager, not a give the manager complete control and not have the newspaper guys traveling with the club say the manager has no authority and must play certain players despite his objections.

IF STONEHAM wants to manage the ball club, it is his right. He owns it. He pays the bills and he is entitled to the job.

But if he hires a manager at $35,000 a season he should leave the field generalship to that manager. And in turn the manager should have a pitching coach who would have some pitcher ready in case of a change-up. The pitching coach, and not the manager, should be held responsible for slab replacements.

Stoneham needs a manager who doesn't want to go along as a solo skipper. He should have alert baseline coaches and understanding field coaches.

It seems to be an even bet that there are to be wholesale switching of Giant players this winter.

So far as one can reasonably figure the players slated to slide down the soap chute are:

Stu Miller, righthanded pitcher; Willie McCovey, 1st baseman, Andre Rodgers, infielder.

ONE MIGHT SAY that is quite a load of talent to replace. But it is talent that is certainly shy of what it takes to be big leaguers.

The players needed most of all for the Giants are in this order—a front line catcher; a hard hitting third baseman; a .275 shortstop who can field, two or three good lefthanded hitters and a pitcher or two to help out Mike McCormick, Billy O'Dell, Sam Jones, Jack Sanford, Juan Marichael.

Bill Rigney's blast at Don Blasingame sounds like what any disgruntled ousted manager would say. The fiery little second sacker missed a good year but he'll be around for a long time after everybody has forgotten Rigney.

AS FOR trying to change the style of Willie McCovey, I'd blame that on Rigney. The guys who tried to help McCovey were guys who did hit when active players. And that is more than can be said of Rigney. He never could hit and if you can't hit yourself it's pretty hard to teach someone else to do something you couldn't do yourself.

I'm satisfied Horace Stoneham won't rehire Rigney as manager and that he'll give S.F. a real fiery manager with full authority.

Giants Take Welcome Rest After Trip

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Giants began a four-day vacation today and, after much beefing and squabbling of late, they can use the rest.

Mired in fifth place, the Giants wound up a 19-game road trip defeating Chicago 5-1 yesterday for a series sweep. The 1,013 at Wrigley Field was the smallest group ever to watch the transplanted New Yorkers.

Sam Jones won his 17th game with a five-hitter, giving the team a 9-10 road trip. Sam, incidentally, is one Giant who ought to be happy to be back. He's won 14 at home while losing 4. On the road he's 3-10.

The traveling beefs mainly concerned who had privileges to visit their homes, and whether they should do it on playing time

L.A. SERIES

The club goes back to work Sunday when a two-game series opens in Los Angeles. The Giants return to Candlestick Park next Tuesday for two games against the Cubs, take Thursday off and wind up the season with three games against St. Louis.

Willie Mays' batting average is now .320 as he collected one single in three times at at yesterday. That kept him third in the league batting race after Los Angeles' Norm Larker (.327) and Pittsburgh's Dick Groat (.325).

Jim Davenport tripled in two runs and Willie Kirkland starred afield and at bat. Right fielder Kirkland saved Jones in the second by making a sparkling catch of Sammy Taylor's line drive and turning it into a double play.

In the third, Kirkland threw out Richie Ashburn trying for third on Billy Williams' single. Willie also drove in a run with a single.

N.L. Castoff New Hero For Yankees

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

There were a few scoffs in late July when the New York Yankees, looking for pitching help in the American League race, came up with Luis Arroyo, a little lefty reliever who had been pretty much of a so-so guy in the National League.

The Yanks were second, a game behind Chicago's White Sox, when they reached into the International League for Arroyo, who had worked for St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati in the N.L. But they've won 33 of 58 since, and little Luis has figured in a third of those victories, which have sent New York four games in front with 10 to play.

Arroyo was credited with neither a decision nor an official save last night, but he was the guy who set up a 2-1, 11-inning victory over Washington that left the Yanks just six victories shy of a World Series date two weeks from today.

After the Yanks blew a 1-0 lead on a wild pitch in the ninth inning, Arroyo cut short the rally by retiring pinch-hitters Pete Whisenant, on a short fly, and Johnny Schaive, on a strikeout, with the bases loaded. He finished with 1⅔ innings of hitless relief before the Yanks finally broke the tie on a bases-loaded error for their fifth straight victory.

That reduced New York's magic number to six over the Baltimore Orioles, who broke a second-place tie with idle Chicago by beating Boston 4-3. Detroit whipped Cleveland 9-1 in the other game.

The Yankees, given a 1-0 lead in Mickey Mantle's 36th home run in the fourth inning, were rolling behind rookie Bill Stafford's four-hit shutout until the ninth. Then two singles and a walk loaded the bases, and a wild pitch by reliever Jim Coates tied it before Arroyo hustled in.

A leadoff single by Bill Skowron got the Yanks rolling in the 11th against loser Don Lee (8-6). Two walks loaded the bases, and when Tony Kubek grounded to third, pinch-runner Joe DeMaestro scooted home as catcher Earl Battey dropped a throw from Harmon Killebrew. Eli Grba (5-4) was the winner.

Baltimore, down 3-0, battled back with the help of Gus Triandos' 10th home run and broke a tie with two-out singles in the eighth by Gene Woodling, Jim Gentile and Brooks Robinson—who was ducking away from a pitch when he blooped a hit into right. Billy Hoeft (2-1) was the winner in relief.

Dick Gernert, Lou Berberet and Al Kaline hammered home runs for the Tigers, who finished the season series with a 15-7 record over the Indians. Frank Lary (14-15) was the winner. Jim Perry (17-9) was the loser.

Ted To Quit; Jensen Hints He May Play

Will they play baseball in 1961?

Williams, Boston's 42-year-old hitting great, dropped a strange remark prior to last night's 4-3 loss to Baltimore.

"Only one possibility could make me change my mind about playing next year," he said, and let the sentence trail off. Then, in a quick breath, he said:

"No. Ignore what I just said. I'm gonna quit at the end of the season. That's final. There are no contingencies. This is it. I've had it as a player."

Jensen, whose right-handed power was sorely missed by Boston when he decided to retire at the end of last season, said at his home in Crystal Bay, Nev., that there is a remote possibility he may return.

"I'm just saying anything is possible," he said. "I don't know what the future might bring . . . I doubt that I'll return to baseball."

Bucs Edge Closer To Pennant; Magic Number Reduced To 5

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The World Series opens in Pittsburgh's Forbes Field two weeks from today—unless the Pirates plunge into the most complete stretch collapse in the National League since the tumble by Brooklyn's dying Dodgers of 1951.

After breaking a tie on Hal Smith's eighth-inning home run in the second game for a 7-1 and 3-2 doubleheader sweep at Philadelphia last night, the Bucs are within five victories of their first flag in 33 years.

With a 90-55 record and nine games to play, the Pirates can clinch it with five victories no matter what the hot-running St. Louis Cardinals do. The second-place Cards, who trail by six with 11 left, put away their 12th victory in 15 games with a 3-2, ninth-inning decision over Los Angeles.

Third-place Milwaukee tumbled eight games back as Cincinnati whipped the Braves 9-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Jay Hook. Any combination of Pirate victories and Milwaukee defeats totaling two eliminates the Braves, who play six of their remaining nine against the Bucs.

Sam Jones won his 17th with a five-hitter as San Francisco defeated Chicago's Cubs 5-2 in the other N.L. game.

STRIKEOUT RECORD

Right-hander Bob Friend won his 17th in the opener for the Pirates, giving up seven hits, walking just one and striking out six for a season total of 178 that cracked a 48-year-old Pirate record.

While Bill Virdon drove in three runs with a homer, double and single in the first game, Bob Skinner's single drove in the winning run against loser Robin Roberts (10-16), in the second inning. Skinner then lined a pair of RBI singles for a 2-2 tie in the nightcap before Smith's 11th homer, off Jim Owens, (4-13), broke it up. Clem Labine (3-1) was the winner in relief of Harvey Haddix.

The Cards matched Pittsburgh's four-game streak after blowing a 1-0 lead on Norm Larker's two-run pinch single in the ninth. A two-out, broken-bat single by rookie Charley James then drove in two runs that beat Larry Sherry (14-9) after Ken Boyer's single and two walks loaded the bases. Reliever Lindy McDaniel (12-4) was the winner in his 62nd game.

Ed Bailey and Roy McMillan combined for five RBI behind Hook (11-7), who faced just 29 men while beating the Braves' Lew Burdette (17-12).

Southern Cal Star Wins State Amateur Golf Medal

PEBBLE BEACH (AP) — A powerful Southern Californian, Dr. Arthur F. Butler, won medal honors and established himself as the man to beat today as match play got under way in the 49th annual California Amatuer Golf Championships.

The former New England amateur champion, making his second bid for the state title here, put together a one-over-par 72-73—145 in his two superb qualifying rounds to take the medal by two strokes.

Butler, 39, moved to Glendora in 1958 and is a salesman for Dupont.

Defending champion Verne Callison, Sacramento tavern owner who won the National Publinx title at Honolulu last summer, qualified with 75-78—153, eight strokes back of the husky Dr. Butler.

The sunburned Callison, somewhat erratic in his early qualifying play here, showed signs of getting back on his game yesterday by shooting the last five holes in one under par.

Dr. Butler displaced another Southern Californian as the player to watch when he qualified four strokes in front of Dick Runkle, Los Angeles lawyer whose three under par 69 was the sensation of Monday's firing. Young Runkle staggered all over Pebble Beach yesterday for a ragged 80.

Fletcher Jones, Beverly Hills automobile dealer, and Jay Moorehead, 19-year-old Berkeley caddy who probably knows Pebble Beach as well as any contender, qualified at 147.

At 149 with Runkle were Gene Andrews, tournament veteran from Beverly Hills, and George P. Galios, Monterey. Gerald Zar of San Pedro and steady Steve Stimac of Concord qualified with 150.

In the second round of qualifying, Superior Court Judge Joseph W. Vickers, Los Angeles tumbled over the 20-foot seacliff at the ninth hole on Pebble Beach, but escaped with a severe shaking.

Robert G. Antonopolis of Glendale made the shot of the day when he scored an eagle two on the par four, 450-yard ninth hole at Pebble Beach, but he didn't turn in a second round qualifying card.

Several prominent California amateurs, including Wheeler Farish of Pebble Beach, and Kent Winton, Stanford team star from Merced, failed to qualify. Both went past three rounds in the National Amateur last week at St. Louis.

Middleweights In TV Tiff Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Ernest Burford of Memphis puts his knockout power against the fancy boxing of Ace Armstrong, Elizabeth, N.J., in a middleweight bout tonight in Chicago Stadium.

The 10-rounder will be televised 7 p.m. PDT and scored under the five-point must system.

Burford, 25, a pro since 1956, has scored 13 knockouts in winning 23 of 30 starts. He will be making his first main appearance in Chicago Stadium.

Armstrong, 28, has been in the pro ranks since 1955. He has won 18 of 20 fights with one knockout.

Gordon Kayos Sand

Behind on points at the halfway mark, Gordon made a stirring comeback and in the sixth floored Sand for a nine count with a body attack. Sand was on the floor at the bell and Gordon finished him off after 1:01 of the seventh.

49ers Cut Osborne, Trade Williamson

The San Francisco 49ers released one player and traded another yesterday in order to cut their squad to the league limit.

Tom Osborne, who just missed making the team last year, was bounced off the squad in the final cut. At the same time, rookie end Fred Williamson was traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers for a future draft choice.

State Okays Pic-Six Pool

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California tracks have the legal right to conduct Pic-Six pools such as are operated in Mexico, according to a ruling by State Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk.

His opinion said yesterday that the pools must be mechanically operated and must have the approval of the California Horse Racing Board.

In a Pic-Six pool, the bettor selects his choice of the winners of six consecutive races at a cost of $2. Persons selecting all or a specified number of the winners wins the net proceeds of the pool, usually running into thousands of dollars.

Pic-Six pools have been operated by race tracks in Mexico and particularly it Tijuana. California tracks operate daily double pools in which winners of the first two races are chosen.

Mosk's opinion was requested by the Horse Racing Board which is expected to consider it at a meeting scheduled tomorrow.

Thompson Tries World Speed Mark On Salt Flats

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — A smiling, 31-year-old Californian, who is trying his best to beat the British in a sport they have long dominated, gives it another go today.

Mickey Thompson, an El Monte, Calif., drag strip operator, is on the western Utah salt flats with one aim—to better the world's auto speed mark of 394.1 miles per hour. It was set here in 1947 by the late John Cobb of England. Sir Malcolm Campbell held it before that.

Last week a British team headed by Sir Malcolm's son, Donald Campbell, came here to smash Cobb's record, but the car was wrecked in a 365 m.p.h. crash and Campbell was hospitalized with a skull fracture, concussion and other injuries.

Retired Judge Sits In Municipal Court

Swimmer Breaks Brother's Record At Mill Valley Meet

Sixteen-year-old Tamalpais High School junior Jack Mosher won three events and broke a meet record held by his brother Bob Mosher at the Mill Valley Tennis Club Swimming Meet held at the club Sunday.

At the club's 1959 meet Bob Mosher had set a record by swimming the 50 yard freestyle, in the 16-year-old and under class, in 25.6 seconds, but Sunday his brother, Jack touched the gutter a tenth of a second faster.

Jack Mosher, a swimming letterman coached by George Gustafson at Tam High, went on in the meet to win the 50-yard breaststroke in 34.3 seconds, and the 50-yard backstroke in 36.0 in the 16 and under class to win the boys' high point trophy. Mosher piled up nine points, while his closest rival Richard Creighton, 14, was runnerup with seven and one-half points. Creighton won the 25-yard freestyle and backstroke in the 14-year-old-and-under class.

Starring in the girls' events was 12-year-old Cynthia Hurley who in the 16-and-under class (younger swimmers could enter older class events, but not visa-versa) by swimming the 50 yard freestyle in 35 seconds. The young athlete, a member of the newly formed Tamalpais Swim Club and an eighth grader at Edna MacGuire School, also broke the 25 yard backstroke record in the 12-and-under class by turning in a time of 19.6, breaking a record set by Coach Gustafson's daughter, Jean Gustafson of 21.2 in 1954.

Miss Hurley, with seven points, tied for the high point trophy with Jill Rutledge for the girls.

Other high point trophy winners were Jim Gilfillan with five points in the 12-years-old and under class, and Kathy Jessup with six points in the girls' 12 and under class.

Other event winners were: Bruce Scott, (boys), 17.7, and Katie Jessup (girls), 18.0 in the 25 yard freestyle 10-and-under class; Jim Gilfillian (boys), 15.2 and Adina Wingate (girls), 17.5 in the 12-and-under class, 25 yard freestyle; Steve Scott (boys), 19.1 and Gayle Wittenmeier (girls), 24.0 in the 14-and-under, 25 yard breaststroke; Ken Clarke (boys), 21.4 in the 12-and-under class, 25 yard freestyle; Brian Bajor (boys), 8.9 and Kathy Hislop (girls), 19.3 in the 6-and-under class, width of the pool, and Eric Andersen (boys), 6.4, and Lynn Lee Jessup (girls) 6.6 in the 8-and-under class width of the pool.

LA Chargers Lead League In Passing

DALLAS, Texas (AP) — The combination of Jack Kemp throwing to Ralph Anderson and Royce Womble has the Los Angeles Chargers dominating passing in the American Football League.

Kemp, who has hit 51 out of 85 for 612 yards and six touchdowns in two games, leads the passers by a wide margin. Under the 6-point system completions, yards, touchdown passes, percentage of average gain Kemp has 53 of a possible 60 points.

Back of Kemp is veteran George Blanda of Houston, who has 44.5 points, and third is Cotton Davidson of Dallas with 43.5.

Anderson leads the pass-receivers wtih 13 catches for 153 yards and Womble has snared 12 for 157

Little Leaguers To Be Honored

A banquet for the 20-30 Club's Little League team of San Rafael will be given Friday evening at Traveler's Inn in Corte Madera by the team's sponsors.

A trophy will be presented during the dinner to the team's most valuable player. Also at the affair, honoring the city's runner ups (they lost in a championship playoff to the team of the San Rafael Police Department) films of the San Francisco 49ers 1950 season will be shown.

Three of the team's players from last season were chosen as All Stars. They were Ed Peckley first baseman, Gerry Daniels, pitcher, and John Thompson, shortstop.

Terry Might 'Mow Down' Series Batters

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Add the sparkle of romance to an improved change-of-pace slider and you get a Ralph Terry who may be mowing 'em down in next month's world series.

Dark-haired Tanya Simmons of Larned, Kans., is Ralph's fiance. They'll be married in Nov. An airline hostess, she flew in from Kansas City yesterday to observe her 24th birthday with Ralph, also 24.

HOPES FOR NO HITS

"I was really hopin' for a no-hitter Sunday against the Orioles," admits the fast-ball specialist. "I wanted it for a birthday present to Tanya. And I was sure disappointed when Ron Hansen got that single in the eighth."

That other single by Jackie Brandt in the ninth added but little chagrin to the six-foot-three flinger with the light brown hair. The Yanks won that nightcap 2-0 and thereby clipped the Baltimore birdies for four straight games and a four-game lead that ultimately may wrap up the pennant.

It was the second consecutive shutout for the chucker from Chelsea, Okla. He had retired 20 straight batters before Brooks Robinson walked in the seventh Sunday.

GAMES NOT FLUKES

"Those two shutout games were not flukes," he explains. "I'm pitching a lot better now than last month because I've improved my change-of-pace — My slow curve, off-center slider — and got better control of it and better delivery motion."

Ed Lopat, the pitching coach had helped him a lot with the change-of-pace. And Terry is a much more determined mound student than in the past "because of my approaching marriage responsibilities."

Now, for the first time in his four-season Major League career, he has a dependable change-of-pace to use as an auxiliary weapon with his fast ball, he says.

"You can't begin to imagine what a difference that makes to a pitcher," he stresses, "What a feeling of confidence it gives him. When a fast-ball pitcher has to depend upon speed alone, he's likely to tire himself in the late innings of today's game — and still be tired the next time out.

DISLIKES RESCUE WORK

Terry, who came to the Yankees from Kansas City in a trade in late May, 1959, craves a pennant victory because of his personal pride in Casey Stengel's club and because of the money a World Series would bring to a prospective bridegroom.

"I'd love to pitch in my first world series," he says, but Casey has other good starters: Whitey Ford, Bob Turley, Art Ditmar and Jim Coates. Maybe there's not much chance for me.

Senior Golf Tourney

OSTERVILLE, Mass. (AP)—A trimmed-down field will try today—for the third time—to get in the qualifying round of the sixth annual U.S. Seniors Golf Tourney.

Heavy rain yesterday postponed, for the second straight day, the qualifying round over the Oyster Harbors course.

USF Basketball Team Schedules Hawaii Tilt

The University of San Francisco will open a 29-game basketball schedule this winter with a game against the University of Hawaii in Honolulu on Nov. 30, announced Carl Nolte, athletic news director.

Other highlights of the schedule include a ten-game December home stand, with the Dons meeting Stanford and San Francisco State as well as Miami University of Florida, Providence College, Hawaii and Kansas in their new Memorial Gymnasium in San Francisco.

Miami ranked second in the nation in scoring last season and Providence builds its attack around 6-10 Jim Hadnot, once a star for Oakland's McClymonds High School.

USF will also host the West Coast Athletic Conference Christmas Tournament on Dec. 26, 27, 29 and 30. In addition to the seven members of the WCAC, Fordham University of New York will appear in the Bay Area's only college basketball tournament.

The Dons will have a new coach this season in Pete Peletta, appointed in April to take over from interim coach Ross Giudice. Giudice, who replaced Phil Woolpert just prior to the opening of the 1959-60 season, will serve as Peletta's assistant. The new USF coach has had a successful career in Northern California high schools and Monterey Peninsula College.

The complete 1960-61 basketball schedule follows:

Dec. 23—San Francisco State at USF; Dec. 26—WCAC Tournament at USF;

Dec. 27-30—(USF, Santa Clara, COP, Pepperdine, Loyola, St. Mary's, San Jose State, Fordham) —3 games;

* Indicates West Coast Athletic Conference Games.

Oregon, OSC May Join Big 5 Loop

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Oregon and Oregon State will send representatives to an Oct. 4 meeting of the Athletic Association of Western Universities (Big Five). But neither school will say if it is going to apply for membership in the conference.

STRONGMAN COMPLAINS

JUSTIN BOMBOKO
Heads Congo commission

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI)—Congolese strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu sent officials of his youthful caretaker regime to formally take over government offices today, and charged the United Nations was keeping him from arresting ousted pro-Soviet Premier Patrice Lumumba.

The anti-Communist 15-member College of High Commissioners took over the main administration building under protection of a platoon of infantrymen and an armored car.

In rapid succession, they closed the ministries of information and justice, and took over the national radio station. The moves were carried out peacefully. They told civil servants to return to work this afternoon, but advised political appointees to stay away.

Mobutu, who seized power last week to end the struggle between Lumumba and President Joseph Kasavubul, yesterday appointed the "College of High Commissioners" to govern the Congo.

The colonel named Justin Bomboko, former foreign minister under Lumumba and now a Kasavubu representative in New York, to head the commission which promised to rule only until the rival political factions could reach agreement.

The commission is composed mainly of youthful students and university-trained Congolese, who refused the title of minister. It pledged to protect the Congo from "communist colonialism and from Marxist-Leninist imperialism."

Larkspur To Discuss Subdivision

Further discussion on the development of a proposed 50-lot subdivision in Madrone Canyon at the end of Wilson Way will be held tonight by the Larkspur City Council.

Also on the agenda of the adjourned meeting is introduction of a resolution which would accept a portion of Hillcrest and Bayo Vista Streets into the city street system.

Back-To-School Night At Kent Slated Tomorrow

The back - to - school night scheduled for tonight at the A. E. Kent School in Kentfield has been postponed until tomorrow night, it was announced today by principal George Renworth.

Parents will go to the classrooms of their children, where teachers will explain the pupils' work and discuss plans for the year.

Kindergarten through third grade parents are invited to attend from 7 to 7:45 p.m., fourth through sixth grades, from 7:45 to 8:30, and seventh and eighth grades from 8:30 to 9 p.m.

Coffee and refreshments will be served by Parent-Teacher Assn. Hostesses from 7:30 to 9:15 p.m. in the multi-purpose room.

Cheese And Salads Go Well Together

CHEESE PEAR SALAD
6 servings

- 3 medium, fresh pears, OR 6 canned pear halves
- Orange juice
- ¾ cup shredded Provolone cheese
- ¾ cup slivered, toasted almonds
- 6 tablespoons dairy sour cream
- Paprika
- Curly endive

Peel pears, cut in half and core. Dip in orange juice to keep from darkening. Blend together Provolone cheese, almonds and sour cream; fill centers of pears. Sprinkle with paprika for a touch of color and serve on curly endive.

CHEESE PEPPER SALAD
6 servings

- 3 medium green peppers
- ¾ cup diced Cheddar cheese
- ¾ cup Swiss cheese
- ½ cup diced, unpeeled red apple
- ¼ cup Italian-style French dressing
- Curly endive

Parboil whole peppers about 5 minutes. Drain, cut in half and cut out seeds; refrigerate. Marinate diced cheeses and apple in dressing at least one hour. Fill peppers and serve on curly endive.

CHEESE AND MEATS
SAVORY CHEESE SPREAD
Yield: Approximately 1½ cups

- ¼ cup (½ stick) butter, softened
- 2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese (room temperature)
- ¼ cup crumbled Blue cheese
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- ⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper

STEAK CHEESE SIZZLER
Yield: Approximately 1¼ cups

- 1¼ cup (1½ stick) butter
- 2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese
- 1 tablespoon grated onion
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

For each recipe: Blend together all ingredients until smooth. Spread on sizzling steaks, chops, hamburgers; or, use as a spread for sandwiches and crackers and toast in broiler just until spread melts.

(Note) May be stored in refrigerator, well covered for several weeks, and thus available when needed.

CHEESE AND VEGETABLES
CHIPPED PARMESAN SWEETS
4-6 servings

- 2 to 3 (2 lb.) medium sweet potatoes
- 1 cup grated Parmeson cheese
- Salt

Cook potatoes in jackets 30 to 45 minutes, or until tender. Peel and cut in ¼-inch thick slices. Deep fry in 375 degree fat until lightly browned. Drain, shake in Parmesan cheese and sprinkle with salt. Serve immediately.

OR, to prepare ahead, deep-fry potatoes slices partially or until just golden. Drain on absorbent paper. Just before serving, refry chips about 1 minute, or enough to brown and proceed as above.

NOTE: Delicious also served as an hors d'oeuvre.

MEALTIME IN MARIN

Artichokes, Never Seasonal Usually Boiled Or Steamed

By BARBARA HOSMER

"I was the first one et limburger cheese . . . " boasts a current folk song. It sets you to wondering who was the first to eat an artichoke.

The name of that first soul to brave the stickers is lost to history, but he is figured to have been an Asian who lived in a mild area and must have been desperately hungry or venturesome.

Today the Mediterranean area and the central California coast are the only two spots on earth where the cooling fogs and sea breezes make the artichoke growing conditions ideal.

Fifteenth century Italians began to cultivate this delicious thistle near Naples and gradually many Europeans acquired the taste for it and began to grow some along the French and Italian shores. Then in 1806 artichokes were introduced into the new world, but not until 1899 did the French of Louisiana and the Italians of California begin plantings.

Now most are grown in the fog-swept strip extending from San Francisco halfway south to Los Angeles, a mile or two inland from the coastal breakers. In 1907 the local growers decided to express a few thousand boxes to the East, but even today the artichoke is a relatively rarity east of the Sierra, and we are amused by the baffled Easterner or Mid-Westerner poking at the prickery vegetable with a fork.

Today one out of three California grown artichokes goes down a South American throat and aficianados there are legion.

Not that is matters to true artichoke eaters, but it is reassuring to know that as you tear leaf from leaf you are stoking in iron, mineral salts and iodine.

The artichoke really is a thistle and a member of the sunflower family, and it is the immature or unopened flower that is harvested. The choke is the fuzzy core inside the edible parts.

Europeans like to eat the artichoke raw with salt and pepper or with an oil dressing. In Italy artichokes are dried and put into good soups.

Californians prefer theirs cooked—steamed or boiled and served hot or cold—with a dip of melted butter, mayonnaise or seasoned sauce. Sometimes the artichokes are stuffed and served as salad or hot main dish.

The blessing for us is that artichokes are never out of season here and their real peak months are August through May. Of course canned and frozen ones are always handy.

Marinated hearts are good in tossed salad or fish salads and they can be used whole as appetizers on a relish plate. Other suggestions are to serve them in slices on broiled meats or as a pickle with fish or roast.

To select the best at the market, choose firm, solid ones with tight leaves and compact heads. The leaves should be green, but a few brown specks won't hurt. Spreading and discolored leaves mean tough eating, so select well.

To prepare them, wash thoroughly. Sometimes soaking in salt water encourages insect marauders to give up the ghost. Cut the stem to a one-inch stub and pull off any coarse outer leaves. Artichokes darken speedily in the air or when they touch aluminum, steel or tin. To keep them green use stainless steel, enamelware, pottery or glass to cook them. To preserve color after cutting you can rub the stem end with lemon or vinegar or spread with oil. Or you can put the chokes into water to which lemon or vinegar has been added or into oil.

Artichokes are usually boiled or steamed. To boil put the artichokes in a large kettle of boiling water and add one-fourth teaspoon salt for each. Cover and boil 15 to 45 minutes until tender. It depends on size and you can test by spearing one with a fork.

When tender the leaves can be pulled off easily and the fork will pierce the stem. Then remove the 'chokes from the water and set them bottoms up to drain—an important step.

To stem them, our favorite method, place the thistles in one inch of water or on a trivet above one or two inches of boiling water. Dust each artichoke with one-fourth teaspoon of salt, cover closely and cook until tender, a few more minutes than for boiling.

To pressure cook them, put one-half cup water in the pan and one-fourth teaspoon salt on each, and cook at 15 pounds pressure 10 or 12 minutes. Reduce pressure pronto. Frozen hearts are cooked six to eight minutes in one-half inch of boiling salted water.

For special flavor you can add one or more these to the cooking water: a clove garlic, two tablespoons oil, two tablespoons lemon juice or red wine vinegar, a few lemon slices or two bay leaves. Oil is not necessary if you serve the artichokes with butter or a rich sauce.

Then you are ready to use the 'chokes alone or in a choice of delectable vegetable, main dish, salad, sauce, turnover or pickle recipes we'll discuss next week.

Essential Food Values In Fruits And Vegetables

It is accepted today that one can eat plenty of energy foods and yet slowly starve for lack of necessary food elements.

Among the major elements provided for by fresh fruits and vegetables are vitamin C, vitamin A, calcium, folic acid, carbohydrates, iron, riboflavin and niacin.

In addition, these natural foods contain a large variety of elements of which the nutritional functions are not fully understood but which are, nevertheless, important. Apples, bananas, oranges, muskmelons, raisins, the legumes and white potatoes, for example, have been found experimentally to be among the best body alkalizers.

An important benefit of eating plenty of fruits and vegetables, including some raw, is provision of cellulose for the bulk that is essential for normal digestion.

Pineapple Cheese Cake A Delight!

Cheese Cake is one of the world's oldest and most nourishing desserts. It has the well-earned reputation of being a classic in many lands and a favorite in many famous restaurants.

You couldn't ask for a more breath-taking dessert than Pineapple Party Cheese Cake. It's high, wide and handsome. This cottage cheese-gelatin beauty is light and fluffy, requires no baking. You simply mix it, place in refrigerator and forget it until triumphal serving time. The flavor is delicious with crushed pineapple and the fresh flavor of grated lemon rind.

For those on a high protein diet, cheese cake is a recommended dessert.

PINEAPPLE PARTY CHEESE CAKE

- 1 cup graham cracker crumbs
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- ¼ cup softened butter or margarine
- 1 No. 2 can pineapple slices
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 2 eggs, separated
- ½ cup milk
- 1 cup sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 3 cups creamed cottage cheese, sieved
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Thoroughly blend together graham cracker crumbs, sugar and butter or margarine. Firmly press onto bottom of a deep nine-inch cake pan with removable bottom. (Reserve a few crumbs for top of cake.) Drain pineapple slices, reserving one-half cup syrup. Stand pineapple slices around sides of pan. Soften gelatin in reserved syrup. Beat egg yolks in top of double boiler; stir in milk, sugar and salt. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add lemond rind and gelatin; stir until gelatin is dissolved. Cool until syrupy. Stir in cottage cheese and lemon juice. Refrigerate, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon. Beat egg whites stiff; fold into gelatin mixture with cream. Refrigerate until firm. Serves 10.

PINEAPPLE PARTY CHEESE Cake is a breath-taking dessert that will delight the entire family. This cottage cheese gelatin beauty is light and fluffy, and requires no baking. It sports a graham cracker bottom crust, with a topping of the crumbs.

I've got to admit it...curling does make Blue Seal better!"

That's all it takes, ma'am...just one taste! How does a simple curl do it? Well, you see, the new TENDR-KURL* method adds an extra step in the kneading process. It actually curls the dough, stretches the bread-cells to make the bread more tender. Presses out tiny air bubbles, so the bread stays fresher. It's baked longer, too...and that improves the flavor. You say new Blue Seal's the kind of bread you'd bake yourself...if you had time? Well, thank you! What more could we say?

Now it's Tender-Curled

HAWTHORN COURT at Dominican Convent was colorful on Saturday when the 110th anniversary of the convent was celebrated and class reunions held. About 500 guests were seated for luncheon and the fashion show. Dominican high school girls, wearing their blue checked gingham uniforms, were the waitresses. The affair was sponsored by Dominican High School alumnae, under chairmanship of Mrs. Dewey Donnell. (Aero photo)

Dominican Alumnae Have Gala Reunion

The 110th anniversary of Dominican Convent was celebrated in a big way on Saturday when the Dominican High School alumnae staged its luncheon and fashion show. Graduates of long ago were honored. One of these, Mrs. Bertha Sappington, flew from Honolulu particularly for the event. Sister Mercedes, O.P. for whom the residence hall on the campus is to be named and who has been at Dominican for 70 years, received guests in a private hall in the Administration Building.

Also greeted there was Sister Mary Thomas O.P., a Dominican graduate, and a past president of the college, who has been at Dominican for more than 50 years.

Also accorded honors were those who had attended the convent 50 years or more ago. Among these were Mrs. James Leach and Mrs. Leroy Woodhead.

Class reunions were a feature of the day. Luncheon was served in the Hawthorn Court to about 500 guests. The high school girls, in their crisp blue checked ginghams, were waitresses.

The fashion show began with the showing of Dominican school uniforms of past years. Mrs. Clarence Amonette was attired in the costume worn by girls who attended Dominican when it was located in Benicia. Mrs. Harding McPhun wore the uniform of Dominican about the turn of the century. Mrs. John B. Bellamy appeared in a gym outfit with bloomers and carrying a hockey stick. Mrs. Robert Lashly wore the long skirted white uniform of the 1930's. Then came a glamorous parade of styles from a San Francisco store. Among the models were Mesdames Rudy Lang, Edwin Callan, William Donohoe, William Byron Wallace, William T. Brantman, Edgar Lindner and Victor Burner.

Among the collection of smart wear for girls were a jeweled sweater with a chiffon skirt, Oriental lounging pajamas, also a leopard coat lined with ermine worn by Mrs. Arthur Dettner Jr.

Mrs. Dewey Donnell was general chairman. Mrs. Frank Klineman had arranged for reunion classes to attend preluncheon parties. Mrs. Ray L. Hamilton was hostess to the 1930, 1935 and 1940 classes at her home. Mrs. John Witter was hostess to her class of 1920. Mrs. Neil Burton and Mrs. Roderick P. Martinelli were cohostesses at the latter's home to their former classmates. Mrs. Warren A. Palmer invited her 1930 classmates to her Ross home after the luncheon for swimming and supper.

Mrs. McPhun was fashion show chairman. Mrs. William A. Niccolls was in charge of reservations and the Hawaiian decor was arranged by Misses Suzanne Coffill and Elizabeth Olson. Mrs. Charles Clifford, chairman of the hostess committee, was assisted by Mrs. Marcel Smith, president of the alumnae, Mesdames John Beardsley, Edward Stocker Jr., Donald Collins, Ralph Gomez and Herbert West.

Area Horizon Club Delegates Attend Preview For Jubilee

A day-long preview of coming events was given the Bay Area, Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys high school girls who are to represent their councils at the New York Camp Fire Girls Golden Jubilee Convention in November as Horizon Club delegates. The get-together was held in San Francisco on Saturday, with the San Francisco Council as hostess organization.

Antoinette Girot and Marlene Gavello, from the Marin County Council of Camp Fire Girls, will be this council's representatives in New York. These girls are juniors at Redwood High School and are active in both school and local inter-county activities. They are members of the Stardusters Horizon Club.

Miss Mary Fiedler, Region Executive Director, presided over the meeting and informed the girls of the many activities, conferences, and special-interest sessions planned with the Horizon girl in mind.

From the opening session at Carnegie Hall to the conclusion of the week-long convention, the program planned for the Horizon Girls will run simultaneously with the adult program. It is to be geared to the girl today: "Using The Program to Help Girls Grow," "Let's Look at Our Success Stories," "Horizon Club Members Look Forward," and "A Trip Into The Future." The closing session at Manhattan Center will be a grand finale, The Golden Jubilee Musicale Spectacle—"One Little Girl."

To intersperse the serious information meetings, the girls have a host of tours, luncheons, style show, theater party, and dinner-dance planned for them. As for those special gab sessions, the Horizon Lounge at the Commodore Hotel, the Conference host, will be just for them.

One of the highlights of the day's gathering was the showing of the new Horizon costume to be worn by the convention delegates. This costume, to be adopted by all club members, a smart white flannel blazer with Horizon Club emblem on the breast pocket, navy skirt, and tailored blouse, was received with enthusiasm by the representatives.

Jane Nichols Presents 'South Pacific'

Mrs. Nichols has appeared in the national road show company of "South Pacific" with Janet Blair and has also appeared in "Jollyanna," a production of the San Francisco Light Opera Company with Mitzi Gaynor and Bobby Clark. In Novato she has participated in a number of productions of the Community Players.

Mrs. Nichols dramatized the story and sang bits of the popular tunes. A simple and attractive set enhanced her production as did her costume change and use of minor props, which created mood and atmosphere. She was accompanied by Norma Porter at the piano.

The club carried out the theme of "South Pacific" by using decorations such as leis, fish nets, driftwood and sea shells. Hostesses sponsoring the September luncheon were the Weather Squadron Wives. Mrs. Harlow Millard was in charge of the program; Mrs. William Bennett, decorations; Mrs. Daniel Wypiszynski, refreshments, and Mrs. Howard V. Cassells, awards and publicity.

'AROUND THE WORLD in Fashion' will be the theme on Saturday for the fashion show, buffet dinner and dance to be held at the Elks Club in San Rafael. Working on decor for the affair are, from left, Mesdames Frank Ench Jr., Robert Rich, A. J. McDevitt, William T. Bagley and Bill Grant. The show will start at 8 p. m. (Independent-Journal photo)

David Allen Claims Bride In Concord

The First Christian Church in Concord was the setting for the recent wedding of Judith Lynn McKean of Concord and David Ellsworth Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Allen of Sleepy Hollow.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Calvin McKean of Concord.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of embroidered silk organza fashioned with round neckline and short sleeves. The full skirt extended into a chapel train. Her seed pearl cap held a veil of silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of white gardenias and chrysanthemums.

Joan McKean was maid of honor for her sister and bridesmaids included Sandy Pellegrino, Nita Sides and Ellie Allen. They were gowned in sage green satin gowns and had matching bandeaux. They carried bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride was graduated from the University of California where she was affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega Sorority.

They will make their home in Salt Lake City.

SONOMA TO RE-LIVE ITS PAST AT VINTAGE FESTIVAL THIS WEEKEND

Sonoma, center of historical interest from the days when half a dozen nations vied for power in California, will re-live its past during this weekend of September 23-25.

At that time the Valley of the Moon will offer its 14th annual Vintage Festival, a celebration honoring both the dramatic historical incidents of the nineteenth century, and the grape which first brought fame to California as a wine-producing state. Because of this dual significance, the Vintage Festival is unique among community celebrations, and attracts onlookers from near and far.

This year's Festival will be bigger and more colorful than ever. The famous mission pageant, which is presented on the 23 and 24th, has been increased in size, especially in the larger dancing and singing groups. The town will be resplendent in new flag and other decorations, and there will be added features, including a commemorative re-raising of the historic Bear Flag and a dedication of northern California's first vineyard as a State Historical Landmark.

During the Festival also will occur the formal dedication of the new Jack London Historical State Park near Glen Ellen.

A new musical production, "Down Through the Years," will be offered both Saturday and Sunday afternoons by the Sonoma Valley Chorus, and other musical attractions include a Sunday concert by the Petaluma Municipal Band, a Sunday afternoon of folk dancing in the plaza, and several public dances including a costume ball Friday night.

The traditional blessing of the grapes will take place Saturday morning in front of California's most northerly and last of the missions. There also will be a flower show, an art show, and a hand crafts show, all free, and a new edition of the delightful children's parade, always one of the Festival's most entertaining features.

Free sightseeing rides past the many historic points of interest in Sonoma will be provided by the Rotary Club, and major wineries in and near town will be open to the public on all three days.

Book Fair Opens

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The 12th International Frankfurt Book Fair opened last night with 1,900 exhibitors from almost all parts of the globe showing some 70,000 volumes.

Madera Guild Booth Readied For Festival

The Madera Guild, of Corte Madera, staffs the "Jewel Box" at the Grape Festival on October 1. Their wares include new and used jewelry and features handmade jewelry of all kinds.

Under the direction of Mrs. John Smoot, Grape Festival Chairman, the Guild has had weekly workshops since early last spring for the purpose of designing and completing all types of new ideas in jewelry. This year they will feature raffia earrings, acid work on copper, stone cufflinks, Smalti tile, and attractive new Christmas earrings.

In addition, the Guild has spent many weeks designing a new decor for their booth, and this year promises to be one to catch the eye on Grape Festival Day. Mrs. Leland Johnson is president of the Madera Guild, which was organized in 1952.

Promenaders To Dance On Saturday

The regular fourth Saturday party of the Circle O Promenaders Square Dance Club of Mill Valley will be held on Saturday. Dancing in Almonte Hall will continue from 8:30 p.m. until midnight.

All square dancers are invited to dance to the calls of Don Hills, regular caller for the Swinging Hills of San Jose.

Acting as hosts and hostesses for the evening and serving refreshments will be Mr. and Mrs. Ed Foehr and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Johnson.

The monthly business meeting of the Promenaders will take place on Monday, Sept. 26, at the San Rafael home of club vice president Ed Russell. The proceedings will be called to order by president Sam Schneiter at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served by Mr. and Mrs. Russell at the conclusion of the evening.

Summer Festival At Aldersly; Royal Couple's Visit Awaited

Annual summer festival held at Aldersley, Danish old people's home, on Sunday brought friends and relatives of the home's residents from all parts of California. The picnic grounds were colorful with many American and Danish flags. The little coffee house, "Braedhytten," was freshly painted in the Danish colors of red and white. A stork's nest, complete with two life-like storks, similar to those found in Ribe, Denmark, graced the roof top of "Braedhytten." Many flowering potted plants and greens were in the picnic area.

A new attraction to the festival this year was a bazaar. Hand-made articles and dolls of all descriptions were fashioned by the residents of the home with the help of Mrs. Knud Weaver of San Anselmo and Mrs. Sven Kure of Kentfield, chairman and co-chairman, respectively.

All proceeds from this event go to the new project set up by the board of directors, the Aldersley building fund to which anyone may make donations. It is hoped that the goal set by the board will be completed soon so that the construction of new buildings may begin in the near future, as they are urgently needed.

ROYAL VISIT SET

Chris Pedersen of San Mateo, president of Aldersley, Inc., gave the address of welcome and introduced the master of ceremonies, Mr. Carl Sorensen of San Francisco, who in turn presented Frode Schon, consul general of Denmark. Mr. Schon stated that, instead of bringing greetings from the king, as has been his custom in the past, that on Oct. 7, he would bring the king and queen of Denmark to Aldersley in person to greet all residents and visitors. (The king and queen visited Aldersley in 1939. At that time they were the crown prince and princess of Denmark.)

Mr. Schon also expressed gratitude for all courtesies shown the royal Copenhagen Ballet Dancers when they visited the home in August.

Others called upon for remarks were: Sven Stribolt, editor of the Danish newspaper Bien in San Francisco; Conrad Moldt of Livermore, grand vice president of the grand lodge of Dania of California and Nevada (men's grand lodge), Mrs. Conrad Moldt, also of Livermore, grand vice president of the grand lodge of Dannebrog of California and Nevada (the women's grand lodge); George Hansen of Belmont, president of the general committee of the Danish brotherhood of California; and Mrs. Bollerup Madsen of San Francisco, a representative of the general committee of the Danish sisterhood of California.

SPECIAL MUSIC

Another special event at this year's festival was music provided by the cooperation of Local 6 of the American Federation of Musicians, AFL-CIO., this was made possible through a grant from recording industries trust funds, which is an extension of a program of public service originated by the recording and transcription fund of the American Federation of Musicians A.F.L.-C.I.O., Herman D. Kenin, president.

The leader of the splendid five piece orchestra was Tony Martin, who is well known in Marin County. All enjoyed the familiar music.

Responsible for the success of the summer festival were members of the board of directors who were aided by Mrs. Adolf Laine, manager of Aldersley, and many of the residents of the home. About 350 persons were in attendance.

The committee for refreshments was headed by the chairman of the house committee, Mrs. Louis Nielsen of San Francisco. Assisting her were Mrs. Walter Johnson of San Francisco, Mrs. Kirsten Langeberg and Mrs. Jean Andker of Oakland, Mrs. Anna Hedegaard of Campbell, Mrs. Clement Miller of Orland, Ras Rasmussen and Martin Iversen of Petaluma; Gottfried Laine of Oakland; J. Wm. Sorensen of San Francisco, and Mrs. Harry Wall of San Rafael.

MILTON AND PEGGY SALKIND of Mill Valley, concert pianists and teachers noted for their playing of works for one piano, four hands, will present the program for the Outdoor Art Club's guest day tomorrow. (Jacqueline Paul photo)

Milton And Peggy Salkind To Play For Outdoor Art Club

Milton and Peggy Salkind, concert pianists and teachers, will present the program for the Outdoor Art Club's Guest Day tomorrow.

Peggy, a native of San Diego, Calif., was awarded a four-year scholarship at the Julliard School, and her husband, a native of Delaware has performed at the White House and abroad in Egypt and Turkey.

Credited with returning four-hand, one-piano music to the concert stage through their unique artistry, they perform a great deal of rarely heard music, and because they have enriched its literature by commissioning works themselves, the Salkinds have won praise from critics on both the East and West Coasts.

They appeared as soloists with the San Francisco Symphony in one of the Pops Concerts conducted by Arthur Fiedler in 1955, and with the Boston Pops Symphony at Symphony Hall in Boston in 1956.

Most recently the gifted couple received high critical acclaim last spring from New York critics as soloists with the New York Chamber Symphony in Town Hall and for a recital at the Kaufmann Auditorium there.

For their program at the Outdoor Art Club they will play Sonata in F Major by Bach, five waltzes, Opus [illegible] Brahms; Grand Duo, Opus [illegible] by Schubert, Epigraphes Antiques by DeBussy and children's games, Opus 22, by Bizet.

Harriet Hamilton Married In MV Episcopal Church

Mill Valley's Episcopal Church of Our Saviour was the setting for the marriage Saturday, Sept. 17, of Harriet Elizabeth Hamilton of Mill Valley and Rolf-Dieter Glasfeld of Los Angeles. Only members of immediate families were present.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Newell Hamilton who came with Mrs. Hamilton from Beaver Falls, Pa. for the wedding.

For the 2 o'clock, double ring rites performed by Rev. D. Murray Hammond, the bride was dressed in a waltz length ivory peau de soie gown fashioned with full skirt and fitted bodice having long sleeves and square neckline.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Donald Itse of Mill Valley, wore a street length blue and green silk brocade dress and matching blue cage veil. Her flowers were a ballerina bouquet of salmon roses and yellow carnations.

Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Glasfeld of Los Gatos, was Gabor Doubey of Berkeley.

Mrs. Hamilton attended her daughter's wedding in a blue silk dress and hat with veil, and the mother of the bridegroom was attired in a black dress and hat. Each wore a corsage of phalaenopsis orchids.

On their return they will live at 925 W. California Avenue in Mill Valley.

The bride was educated at Connecticut College in New London, Conn., and is employed as a librarian at the Bancroft Library at the University of California.

Her husband was educated at the University of California in Los Angeles and is now studying for the Ph.D degree in naval architecture at the University of California in Berkeley.

Retired Teachers Will Give Dinner For New Retirees

Marin Division of the Retired Teachers will honor new retirees at a pot luck dinner tomorrow night at 6 o'clock in the social hall of the Fairfax Community Church.

Members will be given reports from the president, Jack Uhte, and the vice president Nettie Shaver, who attended the state and the national retired Teachers' Associations Conventions at Los Angeles in June.

A highlight of the meeting will be showing of pictures taken by Lenore Mitchell this summer when she and her husband, Lyman Mitchell, toured Alaska by air, boat, rail and bus. Lyman will be the commentator.

The program chairman will present plans for future meetings to the [illegible] for discussion and approval.

Newly elected officers who will serve this year are: Jack Uhte, president; Nettie Shaver, vice president; Mabel Mette, recording secretary; S. Lyman Mitchell, financial secretary and treasurer, and Eleanor G. Murray, past president.

Mr. Uhte has appointed his committees. These are: membership, Valerie Ansel; welfare, Kathleen Donnelly; hospitality, Katie Murchison; legislation, Myrtle Ensign; publicity, Eleanor G. Murray; historian, Homer Hildebrand.

Many members of Marin Division will attend the California Retired Teachers' Association State Council which will be held at the Flamingo Hotel in Santa Rosa on Nov. 14-15.

Thomas Hubbards Greet Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hubbard of Belmont, became the parents of a new baby daughter on Saturday, Sept. 17. The new arrival has been named Annmarie, and weighed nine pounds, two ounces.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Kossub of Novato. Paternal grandparents are the late Orville Hubbard; and his wife who now resides in the Black Point area.

Annmarie's mother was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School, and Mr. Hubbard from San Rafael High. Both attended Marin Junior College.

Bakersfield Woman To Address AAUW Workshop On Saturday

Miss Ysabel Forker of Bakersfield will be guest speaker at the Saturday luncheon of the Northern California AAUW Workshop at Bermuda Palms in San Rafael. She is currently serving as a member of the National AAUW Board of Directors and is chairman of the AAUW Status of Women Committee.

Two of the issues facing electors on the November ballot will be discussed by Northern California members of the American Association of University Women at a Regional Workshop slated for this coming weekend. The Workshop will be held on Friday and Saturday at the Bermuda Palms and San Rafael High School. Hostess groups are the Marin, Mill Valley, and Petaluma Branches.

On Saturday morning speakers will discuss pros and cons of the proposed state water bonds at the Legislative Program roundtable. Mrs. Robert Schnacke of San Mateo, state division legislative program chairman, will preside at the session.

That same morning the Higher Education roundtable, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frederick Bauer of Berkeley, will discuss Amendment No. 1 to the State Constitution providing for a master plan for higher education. Mrs. Bauer will also present a resolution to support the amendment at the business meeting following luncheon. It will be voted upon by the delegates.

YSABEL H. FORKER

An announcement has also been received concerning the program following the opening dinner on Friday evening at the Bermuda Palms. According to Mrs. Neville T. Massa, State Division President, the general theme will be "Let's Meet The Challenge AAUW Offers."

Members attending the Workshop will have a chance to exchange ideas and meet the State Division Officers and Chairmen in small discussion groups. Mrs. Massa reports that the meetings are being scheduled as the result of many Branch requests.

Saturday luncheon speaker Miss Ysabel Forker of Bakersfield is well known to local Branch members. In addition to her service as a member of the National AAUW Board of Directors since 1957 and as Chairman of the AAUW Status of Women Committee, she has served the State Division in many capacities. She was President of the Division from 1944 to 1946.

As a member of the Board of Directors she also serves on the Legislative Program, Program Development and Research, and Educational Foundation Committees of the Association. She is also a member of the AAUW Travel Program and travels throughout the West for the Association as a guest speaker.

West German And Red Fleets Play Hide-And-Seek In Baltic

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI)—The Baltic Sea, where Adolph Hitler tested the mightly battleship Bismarck and exercised his U-boat packs, is the scene of a hide-and-seek game between the West German and Soviet navies.

Hardly a day passes without an encounter between Soviet and East German warships and ships of West Germany's growing fleet.

The game is peaceful—if the term applies in the absence of gun fire. But it includes radar tracking and high-speed chases.

But East Germany's ships, ignoring their western countrymen, have been steaming defiantly through tight West German naval formations as if they did not exist.

Recently a Soviet trawler reportedly was sent to the east coast of the United States to watch the atomic submarine George Washington trial-firing the Polaris missile.

Other reports say that two weeks ago the Russians sent a Sverdlovsk class cruiser into the Western Baltic within hours of the West German fleet leaving port.

The West German navy, currently operating some 100 ships, including six U.S.-loaned destroyers, has been assigned by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to block the Soviets from the western Baltic in close cooperation with the Danish navy in the event of armed conflict.

"We won't let them see what they would like to see," said Adm. Heinrich Gerlach, commander of German NATO Naval Forces in the Baltic.

Radar nearly always picks up Soviet or East German warships closing in on exercising fleet formations hours before they appear, naval officials said.

SS Hope Sails Tomorrow On Mission Of Healing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A veteran healer of the wounds of two wars leaves San Francisco tomorrow on a new mission—to help heal the disease-ridden of Southeast Asia in peacetime.

The SS Hhope I, a former Navy hospital ship with service in both Worth War II and the Korean conflict, is now a floating medical training center that will be the cornerstone of Project Hope, which stands for "Health Opportunity for People Everywhere."

When the ship sails westward through the Golden Gate bound for Indonesia, she will begin a year-long mercy mission to wage peace through health. The ship is slated to arrive in Djakarta on Oct. 18.

Project HOPE, a privately sponsored program to share American medical knowledge and skills with newly developing countries, is headed by Dr. William B. Walsh, 40-year-old Washington, D. C., heart specialist and president of the People-to-People Health Foundation.

The project's mission, as Vice President Richard M. Nixon pointed out at the dedication of SS Hope I, is "a clear sign to millions of peoples in other lands that Americans do care deeply about the welfare of their neighbors around the world."

Although the project is intended primarily as a teaching program, the SS Hope I's facilities will also serve as a treatment center. The ship's medical staff and technicians will work side by side with their counterparts from the host countries.

Why take the "school" to the students?

"It has to be done this way, if at all," Walsh said. "They have only one doctor for every 71,000 persons there and it would leave too huge a void to take them out of the country for training."

But he stressed that Project HOPE is not just a "do-good" project. The nations which it will aid must also help themselves if it is to be a success.

"The most important objective of the project will be training local doctors, health officers, sanitation officials, nurses and midwives," Walsh said. "In this way they will be able to carry on after we leave."

The idea behind Project HOPE, according to Walsh, is to help people who have a lack of health potential and lack of the ability to see anything better ahead of them.

"Anything we can do to help them improve their health standards is of immeasurable value . . . Poor health and illness lead to poverty and poverty leads to hunger and hunger to despair and despair to communism," Walsh asserted.

The wave of goodness born by the project seems to have swept over everyone. Its yearly cost—an estimated three and one-half million dollars—is being raised through private contributions from all walks of life, from school children to industries.

The government's only role in this people-to-people project was to donate the SS Hope I, formerly the USS Consolation. President Eisenhower himself ordered the ship completely reoutfitted for Project HOPE.

The American President Lines supplied a crew and will operate the ship at cost. Drug and pharmaceutical companies stocked it with half a million dollars worth of medical supplies. And the U. S. petroleum industry will furnish the fuel needed to run the ship.

QUEEN OF THE VINEYARDS — National Wine Queen Anne Henderson will reign over National Wine Week Oct. 15-22. The 21-year-old beauty was chosen by the wine growers of California as their hostess to the nation during the week-long tribute to the wines of California and other American vineyards.

BIG-FOOT BIRD

Megapode Puzzle Eggs On Scientist

By RAMON GEREMIA

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — How in the world can you expect one megaphode to recognize another megapode if a megapode doesn't knew he's a megapode?

It seems the megapode is a rare and ferocious species of bird found deep in the scrublands of Australia and the nearby islands. Actually the name is an insult to the birds since it refers to the size of its feet (mega—big, pode—feet).

The parents invariable desert the baby bird before it comes out of the egg. Consequently, it's too much to ask that he recognize himself, let alone a friend.

To complicate matters the relatively small and mature female manages to lay a grapefruit-size egg about 35 times a year.

The male immediately covers the egg with a huge mound of dirt, about the size of a compact car, and goes on to the next egg to do the same.

Somehow, he manages to keep the temperature at excatly 92 degrees. This requires him to spend his life racing from mound to mound, taking off or putting on more dirt to regulate the temperature.

How does the male know when the buried egg is kept at 92 degrees? How can a bird about the size of a small turkey lay an egg like a grapefruit? Why do the parents desert the chick?

Yale scientist George A. Clark hopes to be the first to crack the megapode mystery. Clark has received a grant from the National Science Foundation to conduct studies on the baffling bird.

He will spend the next several months in the South Pacific seeking information about the bizarre fowl. He hopes to solves the evolutionary dispute as to whether the bird is descended from the reptile or avian stock.

So, if you can hold out until next spring, some of the questions may be answered. Until then be thankful you're not a male megapode.

In 1866, English novelist, historian and sociologist H. G. Wells was born.

In 1897, the editor of the New York Sun wrote an editorial entitled: "There Is a Santa Claus," which said in part: "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy."

A thought for today: H. G. Wells said: "Human history becomes more and more a race between education and catastrophe."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters, Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden) Gate):

Toll Gate Wakes Rider Rudely

John W. Ward Jr. of 169 Marguerite Avenue suddenly saw lights, applied his brakes and hit a closed toll gate barrier and traffic island at the Golden Gate Bridge toll plaza.

Ward told the California Highway Patrol he had been taking tablets for a severe cold, may have been drowsy, and perhaps started to fall asleep.

Looking for a real "buy" in an odd table for the living room? Perhaps beside your favorite chair, or at one end of your sofa? Drop in to Braverman's and look over our assortment of "one of a kind" closeouts. The prices are ridiculously low. Here are a few examples: take your pick for $19.95.

French Provincial Step end table in nut brown fruitwood finish. Trimmed in antique brass, has a drawer too. Was $55.00 now 19.95.

Modern chairside table with walnut legs, genuine travertine top. The slab of travertine has a slight "nick" on one corner. Originally 65.00 now 19.95.

Looking for an end table that's just a little different? Here's a modern oiled walnut piece that has cane insert panels in the top. It's real smart. One only—was 39.95, now 19.95.

Marsman mahogany corner table, 32 x 32, with shaped half shelf. Would make a handsome piece used with a pair of traditional chairs. Was 39.95, now 19.95.

Mersman Danish style walnut end table with drawer and shelf. It has a few minor scratches, use a little polish on it, make it look like new. Was 39.95, now 19.95.

For bargains like these, pay a visit occasionally to our Economy Department. Braverman's. 208 Greenfield, San Anselmo.

Nixon Favored For Handling Foreign Affairs

By MERVIN D. FIELD
Director, California Poll

At this point in the presidential race, Californians pick GOP candidate Richard M. Nixon by 2-to-1 over Democrat John F. Kennedy as the better man to handle the nation's foreign affairs. Opinion is evenly divided on which nominee would do the more effective job of dealing with problems here in the U.S.

Earlier reports by the California Poll show that Californians of both parties currently rank international problems (defense, Russian relations, maintaining U. S. world leadership) ahead of domestic matters as the issues which will most affect their votes in November.

The California Poll's latest opinion survey indicates that even among those who would now vote the Kennedy-Johnson ticket, a substantial number feel Nixon could do as well as or better than Kennedy in dealing with our foreign relations problems. Those who are currently undecided on which ticket to support also give Nixon a strong edge over Kennedy in the foreign affairs field.

To measure public sentiment on these aspects of the candidates' qualifications, California Poll reporters asked a representative cross-section of the state's adults:

"Which presidential candidate—Nixon or Kennedy—do you feel would do a better job of handling foreign affairs and international problems?"

Woud do better job of handling:	State Total
Foreign affairs
Nixon	55%
Kennedy	27
Both same	8
No opinion	10
Domestic matters
Nixon	39%
Kennedy	39
Both same	13
No opinion	9

Among voters who say today they will support the Kennedy-Johnson ticket, a majority proportion say they have confidence in Kennedy's ability to handle foreign affairs problems, but a substantial group feel that Nixon could do a better job, or could do just as well as Kennedy. On domestic affairs most Kennedy-Johnson ticket voters are confident of Kennedy's greater ability to handle them.

Would do better job of handling:	Currently support Kennedy-Johnson ticket
Foreign affairs
Nixon	18%
Kennedy	58
Both same	12
No opinion	12
Domestic matters
Nixon	4%
Kennedy	79
Both same	10
No opinion	7

Nixon-Lodge supporters, on the other hand, are virtually unanimous in believing in Nixon's superior ability to handle foreign affairs, and a majority also feel that his domestic policies are better as well.

Would do better job of handling:	Currently support Nixon-Lodge ticket
Foreign affairs
Nixon	92%
Kennedy	2

One of the crucial groups in this election is the number who have so far remained "undecided" about which ticket they favor. At the present time they give the nod to Nixon for ability to handle foreign matters, but they feel there is little room to choose between the two men on domestic issues.

Would do better job of handling:	Undecided

SNIPPING THE ELEPHANT'S TRUNK

Fred G. Dupuis, Republican candidate for congress, cuts the elephants' trunks which bar entrance to the new GOP headquarters in Mill Valley. The office on Corte Madera Avenue was officially opened at the ceremony this week.

Miller Slates Marin Vote Campaign Opener

Rep. Clement W. Miller will formally open his Marin County campaign for re-election to Congress tomorrow at a noon luncheon meeting at Sabella's Restaurant in Mill Valley.

The Corte Madera Democrat, seeking his second term as representative from the First District, will be honored at the luncheon by Democratic precinct workers, campaign workers and others. Harold Morgan, chairman of the Marin Miller for Congress Committee, will preside at the meeting.

At the public luncheon, Miller will review his program and outline his campaign platform. Reservations for the luncheon may be made at Marin Democratic Campaign Headquarters in San Rafael.

Miller opened his re-election campaign last week with visits to Del Norte, Humboldt and Lake counties, campaigning on the basis of his record.

Fall Festival To Feature Floral Variety

Avenues of flowers will encompass the carnival and arts and crafts sections of the Fall Festival Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Mill Valley.

Norman Black will supervise the displays, and work is to be done by eight student volunteers from Tamalpais High School. The floral displays are sponsored by the Mill Valley chamber of commerce and junior chamber.

Black said he plans to have large triangular flower beds surrounding the city parking lot area which adjoins the bus depot. He will use redwood ties as frames and redwoods shavings inside to simulate soil. Flowers, in alternating beds, will consist of chrysanthemums, cyclamen and maiden fern. In the center of each bed will be a living tree; about 50 are being loaned by Egger and Son Nurseries.

Drake High Offers New Chemistry Class

Sir Francis Drake High School is one of 24 California high schools to introduce this fall a new course in chemistry originated by the Chemical Education Material Study under a grant from the National Science Foundation.

Keith McNab, Drake chemistry teacher, created the course in collaboration with eight other high school and nine college chemistry teachers under the direction of Glenn Seaborg, Nobel Prize winner and chancellor of the University of California at Berkeley.

Board Decides Owner Must Fill Old Shafts

It's up to the property owner to close or fence two water-filled Santa Venetia caves, believed to be old mine shafts, the Marin County Board of Supervisors decided yesterday.

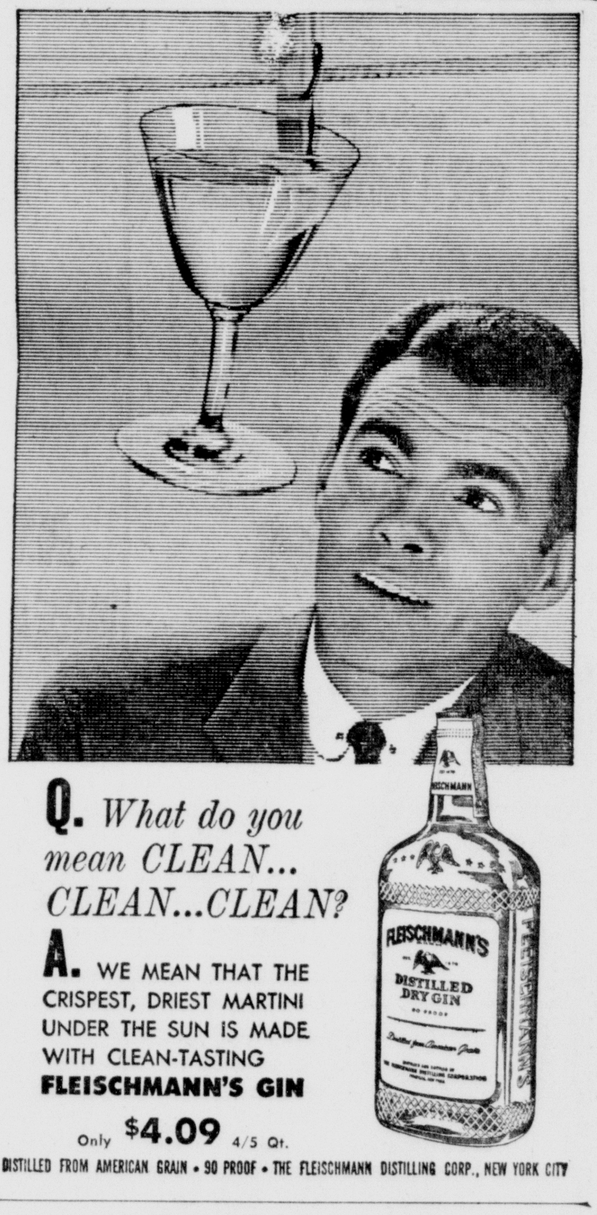

Asst. County Counsel E. Warren Maguire advised the decision in a letter. He wrote that if the excavations are old mine shafts rather than natural caves, the owner should be notified of a 1959 law under which the county may declare any abandoned excavation a public nuisance.

The owner, Meriam Stetson of 241 North San Pedro Road, had given the county permission to blast the caves, which were found in August to have been visited by youngsters. However, the supervisors had balked at the county paying for the work.
